

Salvation Army post for Mr., Mrs. Feltham

FULL-TIME work with the Salvation Army, long-time goal of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Feltham, has been achieved. They are leaving Acton for Port Colborne soon. Pictured with them is son Kenneth, six.—(Staff Photo)

Their ambition of 20 years fulfilled, Mr. and Mrs. N.W. Feltham have been appointed full-time workers with the Salvation Army.

They will be ministers and welfare directors in the Welland and Port Colborne area.

In addition to their welfare work, the Felthams will have a citadel in Port Colborne and will assist in the police court work of the Salvation Army in both centres. Prior to coming to Acton in the fall of 1964, they served the Salvation Army in a lay capacity in the city of Toronto.

Received training They were trained in the Salvation Army Training College, Toronto, in 1950 and 1951. It was during this period that they met, and were married in Midland in 1953. They are members of the Guelph Citadel.

During the years they have lived in Acton they have attended the Acton Baptist church.

Active here Mr. Feltham served as deacon while Mrs. Feltham has served in the choir and the Marlon Rudd Mission Circle. Mrs. Feltham is just concluding her term of office as president of the Mission Circle.

This was in addition to their Salvation Army work.

Mr. Feltham has been working for H.K. Porter Company in Acton.

S. S. theme They adopted a son, Kenneth, four years ago. He is now six and will be transferring from the M.Z. Bennett school. Kenneth proudly wears on his lapel a button which proclaims "I Matter" and "Children's Year 1971." It is the theme for the Salvation Army's Sunday Schools this year.

Mrs. Feltham will have responsibility in the Sunday School, Home League, and clothing depot in their new post.

Move soon They will be taking up residence in Port Colborne on April 14. Quarters are provided for them. They lived in the apartments on Churchill Rd. S.

The appointment has pleased the couple very much. They have hoped for many years for a full-time posting.

They have been happily accepting words of congratulation from many friends in the Acton area.

It takes a magician to pull a rabbit out of a hat, but any one of us can let the cat out of the bag.

The clergy speak out

THERE IS TIME FOR ALL THINGS IN THEIR ALLOTTED PLACE

by Father V. J. Morgan
Pastor, St. Joseph's Church

In the Gregorian calendar of 365 days, given to us by Pope St. Gregory the Great, a certain time can be, should be and is allotted for working, sleeping, eating, and for recreation and amusements.

There are many wise sayings in reference to these allotted times. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" . . . "He who works well sleeps well" . . . "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise" . . . "A good way to appeal to man is through his tummy" and "A little fun now and then is relished by the best of men."

The allotment of different times was intended by God when He created the world and the things of the world for man's use and benefit. It is indicated in Holy Scripture, one of the seven days was allotted for rest, and it is only right to assume, since He was God the Creator and we the created, that this one day was allotted for us to give Him adoration, reparation, thanksgiving and petition in a special manner. This day in the old dispensation was known as the Sabbath — in the new dispensation as the Sunday.

Some may wonder why the change from the last day to the first day of the week, in our special allotment and duties to God: because God is God, always was and always will be; because of the great events that took place on the Sunday — because Our Lord Jesus Christ rose from the dead on Easter Sunday and proved Himself God — because the Holy Spirit descended upon the apostles on Pentecost Sunday. Therefore Sunday was not intended for unnecessary work, and I repeat unnecessary work. Some work is necessary; mothers have to prepare meals on Sunday, railway employees, policemen, firemen are necessary for certain shifts of work on Sunday, but not at all times.

Now what about the allotment of time for sports and amusements on Sunday? Are all these forbidden? Not at all — as long as they are clean, moral amusements and do not interfere in that for which the Sunday was specially intended.

It has been the practice and custom from time immemorial that church service has been allotted for Sunday — either in the morning and the evening and some times in the afternoon. Therefore the allotment of time for other things should not overlap or interfere with this time. First things first — our Spiritual assignment is even more important than our material assignment because it pertains to our eternal salvation. To-day the world is teeming over with all kinds of amusements. Some promoters have no regard whether it interferes with church service, so long as it brings them the mighty dollar, or satisfies the whims of youth.

If anyone has a right for this wrong to be righted it is the clergy of every denomination, together with good fathers and mothers, who want to bring up their children in the fear and love of God — and good citizens of our beloved Canada. Therefore, together, we appeal in a kindly manner to those who are interested in youth amusement and sports, or promoters of same, to have them, but not at a time when they interfere with Sunday service or that most sacred week known as Holy Week.

Holy Week is that one week of the year — the week preceding Easter Sunday — which commemorates the passion, the sufferings and even the death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus, that was offered to God the Father for our redemption.

The week was allotted for us to think of Christ being scourged, spit upon, mocked, crowned with thorns, falsely accused, made to carry a cross, nailed to that cross and finally die on that cross — for us.

During this week, clergy of all denominations have special devotions and services, bring in to our parishes special guest speakers, to bring home to us those sad events that Christ suffered for us, and to aid us in our preparation for a glorious triumph in His Resurrection on Easter Sunday.

Surely this week of special holiness should not be interfered with or marred with amusements.

Surely this one week is too sad (since it has relation to us) to be celebrated by sports and amusement.

Surely 51 weeks of six days has sufficient time allotted for amusements and sports.

Since you now know what I am advocating in this article, may I pass a compliment to fellow clergy now. They are advocating the same thing as myself, by saying I am sure they all love good clean, moral sport, in its proper place and at the proper time. And if you investigate their youth the vast majority loved to play the games of sports, whether it was baseball, lacrosse, hockey, handball, cricket, or what have you. As for myself, I loved to play baseball, lacrosse and hockey — and had the pleasure at school of playing with some who later became professional players in the N.H.L., but was never fast enough to be in their class.

Even as clergymen there are some who will still try to find time to play a good game of some sports — whether it be bowling, curling, baseball or hockey.

There are others who may not play the game but encourage it and sponsor it. But all sports in its proper time and place.

Congratulations Rev. Gentlemen.

Two teachers resign Aug.

Mrs. Sandra Fleischer and Mrs. K. E. Ott, both teachers at Acton district high school, notified Halton County Board of Education about their intentions to resign effective Aug. 31. The resignations were among others accepted throughout the county.

Acton 4-H'ers get organized

By Cathy Lasby
Thirteen very enthusiastic 4-H members met at the Acton Community Centre on March 22 for the organization meetings of the Acton 4-H Calf Club and the Acton 4-H Field Crop Club.

Assisting will be Vern Butcher and Bill Lasby. Hugh Cook, assistant agricultural representative, was welcomed back to another year with the Acton Clubs. Mr. Braida welcomed the members on behalf of the sponsor, the Acton Agricultural Society.

Assisting leaders Nino Braida and Russell Murray this year will be Vern Butcher and Bill Lasby.

Hugh Cook, assistant agricultural representative, was welcomed back to another year with the Acton Clubs. Mr. Braida welcomed the members on behalf of the sponsor, the Acton Agricultural Society.

This year it will be possible for a member to participate in three calf club projects: caring for a calf, a yearling and a cow. This year a silver dollar competition will be held for both dairy and beef 4-H members.

Activities this year include a science seminar, the regional conference at York University, leadership week, exchange delegates to and from Wisconsin and exchange delegates from Maryland. The members were pleased to learn that a bus trip to Ontario Place would be held in late June, again sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of the Kingsway.

Following a film entitled "Cash in on Grass" the election of officers was held. Acton 4-H Calf Club president is Carol Somerville, vice-president Tom Parker, secretary Beryl McEnery, press reporter Cathy Lasby, representative to leaders and members council Bob Lasby. Acton 4-H Field Crop Club: president Bob Lasby, vice-president Rob Murray, secretary Janice Swackhamer, press reporter Tom Parker, representative Cathy Lasby.

After some of the lesson material was distributed, the 4-H pledge was recited to close the meeting.
