Free choice schools — said "unnecessary"

Halt County students may soon have the opportunity to change schools and attend the school of their choice anywhere in the county.

While several trustees voiced concern about particular problems with the scheme, only one trustee was openly opposed when it was discussed at the Halt County Board of Education meeting in Oakville Thursday.

recruit students to build athletic empires. He said he had faith in the physical education staff and felt neither they nor the students would try to take advantage of the system.

Bill Priestner suggested there

He feared administrative problems with the scheme and said the proposal implied there were empty pupil places throughout the system, he wondered if it meant the board would have to provide a pupil place for a person in his home area as well as the area he chose to attend.

The director noted the scheme might put pressure on principals but if an extraordinary number left a school, it would point out a weak spot in a hurry. "If too many left it would be time for the principal to find out why and correct the problem," he told the board.
