

Sunday in the village

What do people do in a little village like Eden Mills on a Sunday? That's a question people from the big towns and cities often ask residents of the village.

According to Mrs. Tony Vos the people in Eden Mills and other small villages around the country make their own fun over the weekends on co-operative ventures. On a recent fine sunny Sunday several families from the village roasted a suckling pig on a barbecue on the Tom Kerkhoven farm.

While Tom prepares the feast (top photo) the children in the bottom picture dangle their feet in the pond while wild fowl observe them from the far bank.

One year-old Michelle Schelkle gets a dip with the assistance of her mother Helga, on the left.

Of course, the Eden Mills Community Club also organizes events which keep the people of the village busy during spare time when they aren't active cutting lawns, tending flowers and making improvements around their homes. There are ball games in the park and swimming lessons for the children in the big mill pond. — (Photos by Tony Vos)

Camp, church, bake sale, presentation

By Mrs. R. Wright
The Lutheran Camp at Eden Mills has opened for another season. The first group this week-end were the Glen Lea Division of Girl Guides numbering 100.

Crestview Public School grade 6 from Kitchener will have a two-day stay this week of science study.

Mr. T. Kramer of Kitchener will be camp director with 12 counselors plus a kitchen staff to take charge.

Mills Presbyterian church was celebrated last Sunday. Special music was by the Inspirations, Messrs. Dick Bertolink, John Bertolink, Andy Klapwyk and Bill Vandenberg of the Guelph Reformed Church plus Eden Choir. Speaker was the Rev. Wm. Nicholson, former minister, of Westminster St. Paul's Church, Guelph. Special guests were nine patients from the Eden House Nursing Home.

bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Haney who are leaving the district to make their home at Blind River. Several tables of cards were indulged in. A delicious lunch was provided. After regrets were expressed by the hostess at losing them as neighbors, Mrs. Atkinson on behalf of the gathering presented them with a large cut-glass vase.

Jim suitably replied and will miss the friends after 16 years. Then Mabel added a few chosen words and thanked everyone present.

Recent visitors of Messers Gilbertson were Mrs. Ruth Ruzza, Burlington; and Mrs. Bishop and Mr. Thompson, Listowel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Haney left to make their home at Blind River. Mrs. Anna Wilson was in Moorfield, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ittly.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilk Wilson were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spinks, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spinks, Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. Ansel, London; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson, Guelph.

Two sheep rustled?

Milton OPP are investigating the disappearance of two sheep from the farm of Sid Adema at R.R. 5, Georgetown.

Mr. Adema reported after pasturing the sheep in a nearby field, he brought them in for the night and reported two were missing from the flock. He assured police there were no holes in the fencing and reported they may have been stolen by parties travelling the nearby railway tracks.

The two animals were valued at $80.

Club learns horse safety

The Halton 4-H all-breed horse club agreed to hold their achievement day Oct. 7 when they met recently. At the same meeting members discussed safety rules and parts of the saddle.

Judging events will be held June 21 and August 4 and a trip to Ontario Place is slated for June. The club will also tour a farm and hold a wiener roast sometime during the summer.
