An Optimist is a person to whom "O" is the first letter in opportunity instead of the last letter in Zero.

Ebenezer

Decoration Day held at cemetery

By Mrs. Ron McLean

Ebenezer's biennial cemetery Decoration Day service was largely attended. The guest minister was Rev. Bernard Warren, who came to Nassagaweya two years ago.

"now". Here we have no "continuing city." People change. Circumstances change. Some people, when joining the church is suggested, will say, "O, it's not worth while. We'll be moving somewhere else, in a year or two."

"We cannot live as if there were no tomorrow. We have a life to live in the world to come. We have a responsibility to live in this world with hilarity, so that we can enter the new life gladly." The epistle was read from Hebrews 12: 1-3, 12-14. We are part of the communion of saints.

Mr. Warren's topic was "The Family of God, Seen and Unseen."

Draw from history

Many people say to abolish tradition, cut loose from the past. There is an anchorage in the land, handed down from father to son. The Christian church does well to maintain an interest in history.

We shouldn't be married to the past. Pioneer life was tough. We are fooled if we think the good old days were best.

At Easter, Mary and the disciples were looking for something dead, which was not there. Some people are just interested in a graveyard.

Live now

The past is helpful only if we can live in the "now" in a more victorious way. Many young people today are rootless.

We are a transient people, for example, refugees from Jordan and Pakistan. We must invest in the people with whom we rub elbows. Many people are just passing through. What can we do in this moment? Invest in the

Lads drown district lakes

A 13-year-old St. Catharines boy drowned at Elora gorge park last Wednesday—the third person to drown there in the past three months.

Rene Robichaud was with a school group on a three-day field trip. He was walking along the shore when he fell in a hole.

A grade 4 Hespeler boy Carlo D'Ambroino drowned Thursday at Puslinch lake with a group of students on a science outing.

Mrs. Mabel Baldwin of Scarborough visited last week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred MacArthur, also Mr. and Mrs. Leroy MacArthur and family.

Relatives and friends were shocked to receive the sad news of the death of Mrs. Carmon Griffin of Mishawaka, Indiana, on Sunday, June 20. Funeral services will be on Wednesday June 23.

ahead. We are grateful for the part played in the community by those who have gone on before. If we trust in Christ, we will see them again. We will enter gladly at the time of death, into a far better place.

Large funeral

Sympathy is extended to the family and many friends of the late Aileen McMillan. The fact that her funeral, at Nassagaweya Presbyterian Church was one of the largest ever held there, is a tribute to her friendly, winsome personality.

Untimely death

Sympathy is also extended to Mr. and Mrs. E. Wheeler, and their daughters, Pauline (Mrs. Harris Elliot) and Darlene, in the untimely death of their only son and brother Brian 19. Wheelers formerly lived on the 2nd Line, across from No. 4 School, and now reside in Drayton. The Thomson family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson.

DR. CHARLES H. BEST, who was the co-discoverer of insulin, was recently named a Companion of Honor in the Queen's Birthday honors list. The honor came on the golden jubilee of the discovery of insulin.
