Campout
 This splendid warm weekend was ideal for the Scouts and Cubs "Camp-out". Eleven cubs under their leader George Patterson spent a happy time, with tents and sleeping bags plus lots of good camping food, at Flora Gorge.

Nine scouts joined those of the whole area to a fine week-end at the George Henderson farm. Here they engaged in all sorts of activities. The theme for this camporee was "North American Indians."

On Saturday Indian costumes were donned, long houses and tipis were set up and pioneer equipment, reminiscent of early days — all of which proved very interesting to the boys.

The Sunday morning worship service was conducted by two of the leaders. By Sunday evening the boys were ready to go home quite satisfied with their weekend, and ready for a good night's sleep in their comfortable beds.

Church services
 By Mrs. Ron McLean
 Holy Communion was celebrated at Ebenezer on Sunday. The first supper was held against a background of severe opposition. Persecution was popular. The immediate background in the Upper Room was death. Not only Jesus, but all the disciples, except one, were to meet violent deaths. At the last supper, Jesus was strengthening them.

Some people feel to-day that the table of the Lord is irrelevant. Jesus speaks to us words of comfort and strength. Some say the church will die because it has no meaning in the present world. The church will never die. The church is the anvil that has worn out many anvils.

Some of Napoleon's horses and men were quartered in Milan, under the beautiful mural of Leonardo de Vinci's "Last Supper". They cut a door in the picture just under the feet of Jesus. To-day, the picture is a beloved ruin, but its meaning will outlast any desecrating soldiers.

Promise of eternity
 This sacrament has outlasted centuries, because it offers to-day the same as it did to the disciples, an inner strength and a promise of eternity.

In this service, we are not playing out a ritual. This sacrament has strengthened our forefathers for generations. It is never out of date.

Everyone is afraid of death. It speaks of the end, but not for those whom God has claimed. There is no more bondage to the fear of death. "I heard the voice of Jesus say, I am this dark world's life."

We may conquer all things, even death, in His name.
