

There's no place in School for DOPES!!!

Drug addiction isn't somebody else's problem . . . it's ours. Each of us is a loser when the addict, ravaged by physical and emotional damage, driven by growing dependence on his drug, turns his potential as a person and as a citizen into frantic scheming for ways to get his drug and pay for it. To support his habit, he almost certainly turns to crime. Most alarming — and of grave concern to parents — is the spread of drug addiction downward, into the classrooms of our high schools and even grade schools. There are no easy answers . . . but stopping drug addiction begins by honestly facing its problems.

We all share the responsibility to educate ourselves and our children about the dangers of drugs. We must: Learn the facts and fallacies about drugs. Set a good example. Don't misuse drugs . . . including alcohol and sleeping pills. Be prepared to understand and discuss drug problems. Support community efforts to combat drug addiction. By mobilizing sound knowledge, we can help to end drug addiction and its problems.
