Fall fair time

By Henry J. Stanley

Fairs are in progress once again. These Fairs, often described as "Show Windows of Agriculture", are an opportunity for the exhibitors to see just how good a particular animal or exhibit of flowers, grain, etc. really is, compared to the others in the class. Fairs also provide an excellent opportunity for the urban people to see top fair produce and animals.

Action fair first

The Halton Fairs commence Sept. 17 - 18 with Acton, followed this next week-end by Milton and the next by Georgetown. This year for the first time, the Halton twinstee breeders are holding their black and white show on Friday evening, Sept. 24, in a large tent at Milton Fair.
