

Churchill - Kennedy wedding vows in Erin

Bouquets of glads decorated Erin United church, Erin, for the marriage of Louise Elizabeth Kennedy and Terrence Henry Churchill.

The bride, a teacher with the Wellington board of education, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lyons of Erin.

The groom, assistant lab technician with Bayer Dye Stuffs, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Churchill, Ontario Street, Milton, and formerly of Acton.

Rev. Herblson performed the double ring ceremony at seven o'clock August 20. Mrs. A. Wright played the organ.

Victorian gown

The bride wore a formal Victorian gown of white lace and net with lace ruffles featuring a high collar and long full sleeves. Her long hair was in ringlets and she wore a ring headpiece holding her lace-edged net veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids. Mr. Lyons gave his daughter in marriage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Pat Hamilton, a cousin of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Mrs. Nancy Gates, a friend. The attendants wore burgundy hot pants outfits trimmed with white lace and topped with long skirts. Their pins, worn on burgundy ribbons, were the gift of the bride. Their bouquets were of white orchids.

Groomsman was Pat Churchill, Port Credit, and the ushers were Mike Churchill, Milton and Bernie Freuler, R.R. 1, Acton.

Reception

The reception was held in the church, with friends and relatives attending from Toronto, Georgetown, Port Credit, Tottenham, Guelph, Milton, Acton and Erin. The groom's grandparents from Orillia were among the guests.

The brides grandmother Mrs. Lyons made the wedding cake. The bride's mother wore a blue dress with blue lace coat, blue accessories and a white orchid; the groom's mother wore a gold coat and dress ensemble with gold accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple left on a trip to Kingston and the Thousand Islands, the bride wearing a hot pant outfit of crushed purple velvet with a lime green orchid.

A miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be was held in Erin United church by Mrs. Pat

Hamilton and Mrs. Nancy Gates on Friday, August 6.

Another miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Marg Poloni of Bronte St., Milton, on Wednesday, August 11.

Line up swap shop

The Swap Shop will re-open in October with its good clothing bargains.

The volunteers who have been running the shop are now lining up volunteers for the coming season, and making full use of all volunteers they hope that everyone should have a lighter work load.

Anyone who can give an afternoon weekly, monthly or even occasionally is asked to help.

Give name

They are asked to write their name, address and telephone number, and whether transportation is required, and drop the slip of paper in one of three boxes provided—at C. K. Browne's store, Benson's Shoe Store or the new Becker's milk store in the east end of town.

The Swap Shop is open Tuesday afternoons in the Y and a free coffee drop-in centre was also becoming popular.

The swap shop opened in March with a handful of volunteers and proved successful far beyond expectations.

Letters have been sent out his month to a volunteers presently on their lists.

Georgetown head for district club

The University Women's Club of Milton and District began its tenth year on Thursday, September 9, with a wine and cheese party at the home of Mrs. Liz Frame under the leadership of Mrs. Joan Masson, the club's first Georgetown president.

The program for the coming season was revealed to the members. Subjects to be presented include: Prison Life, The Near East, The Distress Center, Canadian Consumers, and an evening with the Chansonettes.

Study groups were formed at this first meeting under the direction of Mrs. Kay Dills. They include continuing groups such as the Chansonettes, a women's choir under the direction of Mrs. Judy Hunter; the Great Books Reading Group being organized by Mrs. Agnes Ruhl; and the Jaunters. Proposed new groups are: mixed bridge, current events, or a community project.

Reports were given on the Kitchener-Waterloo Conference of University Women held in June.

Need aluminum

Mrs. June Andrews explained the function of SPIN (Stop Pollution in Nassagaweya) which began to re-educate people and to form a watchdog council. This was the first rural area to attempt to recycle garbage and was developed from information from the Conference and from Pollution Probe. Mrs. Andrews asked everyone to save aluminum to be collected by the end of September.

Mrs. Billie Marshall gave information to the members on her special interest at the Conference—transportation—and its impact on the lives of all people. Mrs. Ann Mowat reviewed the problems of social justice and how it is available only to those who know how to get it.

Mrs. Eileen Currie requested a second harness for carrying the flag. It was agreed a fish pond would be included in the bazaar in November. The group decided not to enter articles in the fair this year.

Constable Allan and Mrs. Brown, Christie and Keith of Ottawa visited with their grandmother Mrs. John Lambert Wednesday of last week and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bowes of Painswick were visitors on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bowman and family are back at their home on the sixth line of Esquesing, after spending the whole summer on their house boat. Debbie Slingerland went with the family. For a couple of weeks they travelled through the Trent Canal, Lake Simcoe and the Severn River. While their boat was docked at Toronto they went over to Ontario Place five times.

Gail Douglas of Acton was among the six 4-H girls in Halton, Halton at the C.N.E. They joined a group of nearly 200 members from other countries and districts for a program of tours and discussions. They saw the University of Toronto, Maple Leaf mills, Royal Ontario Museum and Ontario Place as well as the C.N.E.

Sharon Britton attended the Provincial Leadership Training camp for selected rural young people from Sept. 5 to 12 at the National Y.M.C.A. conference centre, Lake Couchiching. Purpose of the camp was to provide prospective leaders with training experience. Doreen Harrop of Norval also attended from Halton.

Among those from Acton attending the open house of the Sunshine school at Hornby Saturday afternoon were Library board chairman George Lee and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Beatty, Mrs. D. Dupuis, Mrs. F. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. G. Buna, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCulloch. Assisting with the event were Mrs. Jennie Kulken, Mrs. Julie Conroy and Mrs. Ruby Laustsen.

Former sheriff and Mrs. Andy Frank, now of Milton, have just recently returned from a tour of Holland, Germany and Switzerland. Mr. Frank has relatives in Germany and his father came to Canada from there in 1854. In Nuremberg they visited relatives and stayed in the house built by Mr. Frank's great-grandfather in 1825, sleeping in the room where Mr. Frank's father was born. The Franks had a wonderful trip. They lived in Nassagaweya before moving to Milton.

What a wonderful time to be on a diet! In the fall, a wide variety of fresh fruit is available for a quick pick-me-up snack or a light, refreshing, low-calorie dessert.

For only 25 calories you can enjoy a plum. A small peach, 2 inches in diameter, contributes only 35 calories. You can have 3 apricots for 55 calories, half a cantaloupe for 60 calories and a cup of grapes or sliced peaches at 65 calories. One medium apple, 2 1/2 inches in diameter, contains 70 calories and a pear, 3 inches by 2 1/2 inches, 100 calories.

Each of these fruits has less calories than one plain cookie, 3 inches in diameter. There are 120 calories in one cookie and it is not nearly as nutritious, satisfying, or filling as one piece of fresh fruit!

Ron Henry has returned to Kingston to resume studies in second year law at Queen's University.

Stewart McCulloch has returned to Sheridan College.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Butcher, Oshawa visited in town during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Tremilla have returned from a trip to Jamaica.

Tom McGreener, six years old, is home and recovered from the bike-car accident which put him in Sick Children's Hospital for a while.

Mrs. R. Algie visited with her son, Lloyd, and family at Port Credit a couple of days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Knox, of Oakville, called on friends in town one day last week.

Rev. A. H. McKenzie was back in Knox Pulpit Sunday, after the family holidayed at their cottage on the French River.

There was a very disappointing crowd at the junior hockey dance in the Legion Hall Friday evening. Jeff Barry's bank played.

Coach John Goy Jr. entertained the bantam lacrosse team at a swim party at his home Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Jason Greenblatt, of Ottawa, called on their friend Mrs. R. Algie, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. MacDonald of Grasse Point, Michigan, and Mrs. W. T. Bell of Toronto visited with Mrs. R. Murray MacDonald over the weekend.

The annual Wansbrough family picnic was held Sunday at Rockwood park with two very good meals. Relatives were there from Ancaster, Burlington, Cooksville, Toronto, Willowdale, Agincourt, Rockwood and Acton.

I know that Gord will come home today and ask "What did you DO today that you couldn't find time to take the dog to the vet's?" Although it's not put in so many words, the implication is there that I never really do anything of importance and should have all kinds of time to run around doing errands.

Usually when this question comes up, all I can say — and rather vaguely at that, — is "Oh, housework and things." So now, since my column is due in town (was due two days ago, to be exact) I thought I'd sit down with my lunch and type out an assessment of what should be, what HAS to be done, and what I've managed already, then hand Gord a complete record.

Bad beginning

Last night, I was at a council meeting till midnight or so, and not in bed before one. That made for a bad morning before I even got started. After waving Gord off at 6, I did five loads of wash and tidied the house, then headed for the pasture to find, catch, and clean up my mare for her 8.30 appointment to be shod. That all went easily enough (for a change) but then we stood and waited and waited and waited. No furrier.

Since she has broken lead ropes and or pulled out fenceposts before, I stood till 9.30 in the mist before taking a chance and fastening her securely while I headed up to the phone. Just then, the truck came down the lane, spooked Velvet who jerked back, just about removing the coll's teeth. (He was busily hanging on the slack of the rope).

HE jumped back, startling a steer who was looking into our excavation (15 feet deep) for a manure tank. Steer promptly fell over the edge, and lay in the mud a minute before climbing to its feet, shaking itself, and staggering up the ramp.

Mud monster

A heifer who was on the other side took one look at the mud-covered monster heading straight for her and took off—right through a fence.

Quite a while later, we (the kids aren't back at school as this is written) got back to the house, and I was able to do an hour's ironing before lunch.

This afternoon, there are Jim's pants to take up for school, and Beth's skirts to let down, Beth's timetable has arrived from the high school—neatly labelled "Thomson, Daniel". So we have

Members hear of convention

Mrs. Grace Nelles told her fellow members of Lakeside chapter of the I.O.D.E. of her experiences when she attended the national meeting of the I.O.D.E. this summer in St. Johns, Newfoundland. She showed postcards and other mementos.

Next year's national meeting will be in Vancouver.

Dessert and coffee were served as members enjoyed their first meeting of the new season Tuesday of last week in the Legion hall.

Mrs. Eileen Currie requested a second harness for carrying the flag. It was agreed a fish pond would be included in the bazaar in November. The group decided not to enter articles in the fair this year.

JO-ANN Wasowicz of Kitchener, formerly of Acton, will marry Jim Randall of R.R. 2, Preston, on October 2. The wedding will take place at St. Daniel's Roman Catholic church, Kitchener, at 2.30 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wasowicz, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Randall.
