Handicrafts and school entries showed more originality this year. Shell collections, vegetable animals, novelties and decorated bottles showed plenty of new ideas this year. Especially unusual were Don Price's lamps made of wooden sticks.

The promised dunking machine was missing from the fair.

Duke of Devonshire chapter of the I.O.D.E. raised funds tagging at the fair again.

There were six fairs Saturday within a radius of a few miles. But Acton's attendance was still a record.

Miss Acton Fair trophies for the top three contestants were donated by H. H. Hinton, Becker's Milk and Imperial Oil, corsages by Elsie Syme and John Goy Cartage; roses by Jack Rol and their float by Eramosa Flower Mart.

M.P. Rud Whiting brought his wife and their two youngsters, Jamie and Tracy, with him when he came to open the fair Friday evening. But the youngsters were a lot more interested in getting out to the midway for candy floss than in his words of official opening.

championship rolloff, Conway's 784 took care of Payne's 651 and Gould's 643 - would you believe it, Industrial-Commercial league has already booked the banquet date for May 13 at the popular legion hall. Seems as if, if you don't book 'em early you just can't get the dates you want - understand the Thursday Toppers ladies' league which bowls Thursday afternoons have openings for two or three more bowlers or would be bowlers. Contact Audrey Blanchard at 653-2875 or the Acton Lanes if you're interested - this coming Saturday morning is the start of the Youth Bowling Council season. Supervisor Sylvia Magee promises to have a supply of Aspirin tablets on hand for her staff. Ah for me, I'm taking to the hills - bit of a mixup last week with the Acton Friends league, but they definitely start this Thursday night - that winds it up once again my friends, so adios amigos and goodbye Concord City.
