A Cordial Invitation To All

Attend the church of your choice this Sunday.

Let's Play Bridge

by bill coats

The Acton Bridge Club started its 10th season with a turn out of five tables. It hardly seems that 10 years have passed since we first started.

I would like to again extend an invitation to anyone who would like to try duplicate bridge. If you have played rubber bridge, you can play duplicate bridge. Your first game is "on the house" and after that card fees are only 75c per person per night.

Mondays in Acton
The Acton Bridge Club meets every Monday night at 31 Young Street, Acton. The Georgetown Bridge Club meets every Tuesday night at the Legion Hall in Georgetown. Both games start at 8:00 p.m. sharp. Why not try duplicate bridge this fall.

Our youngest player, only 14 years old, pulled off a win at our opening game last week. Here is one hand where he was the only player to bid a slam.

East dealt with East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:
EAST SOUTH WEST NORTH 3 H
Pass 1 H Pass
3 S 6 H All Pass
Opening lead — Queen of spades.

South's opening bid is routine. North has a choice of bids. However, when one bid will describe a hand better than another, you should make the most descriptive bid. A jump raise of a major suit opening shows good trump support and 13-15 points.

To a T
Since this describes North's hand to a T, this is the best bid to make. I imagine that many pairs would miss slam because North bid spades first and then could not describe his hand afterwards.

East's bid did more harm than good. South has heard his partner make a jump bid. Now East has shown some strength in spades. South can realize that there is no duplication in spades and bids the slam with confidence.

13 tricks
If you really want to try you can make 13 tricks on the hand. Most declarers settled for the obvious twelve tricks — five hearts, four diamonds, two clubs and one ruff in dummy.

Last week's winners at the Acton Bridge Club were: first, Ian Coats and Bill Coats; second, Bart Fisher and Bill Wandel; third, Frank Martin and Tom Warnes; fourth Bob Dickson and Jack Coats.

Large crowd anniversary

A number of friends of Rev. R. H. Armstrong went to Nassagaweya Presbyterian Church to hear him preach the 135th anniversary service on Sunday morning. Mr. Armstrong preached here a number of years ago and the family are now living in Wingham.

He was accompanied by ten Bell Ringers with their leader from his home church. Their music added greatly to the fine anniversary services. St. David's Church choir from Campbellville also attended and assisted with the musical portion of the service.

A large crowd attended this milestone in the history of this church.

RAIN spoiled the log cabin raising bee at the county museum Sunday. They hope to continue the volunteer project this Sunday.
