

George Kerr

more pollution in Acton than normal.

SPIN the effort
He firmly approves the SPIN program in Nassagaweya and adds Burlington is trying something similar as a provincial experiment. There too the people seem happy to co-operate.

Regional government? He hasn't changed his stand: Burlington should be part of Halton county.

He anticipates more rail service to Acton, Milton and Georgetown and Guelph. There will be more government emphasis on public transportation.

Progress now?
How about progress in Ontario, since the imposition of the 10 per cent U.S. surtax?

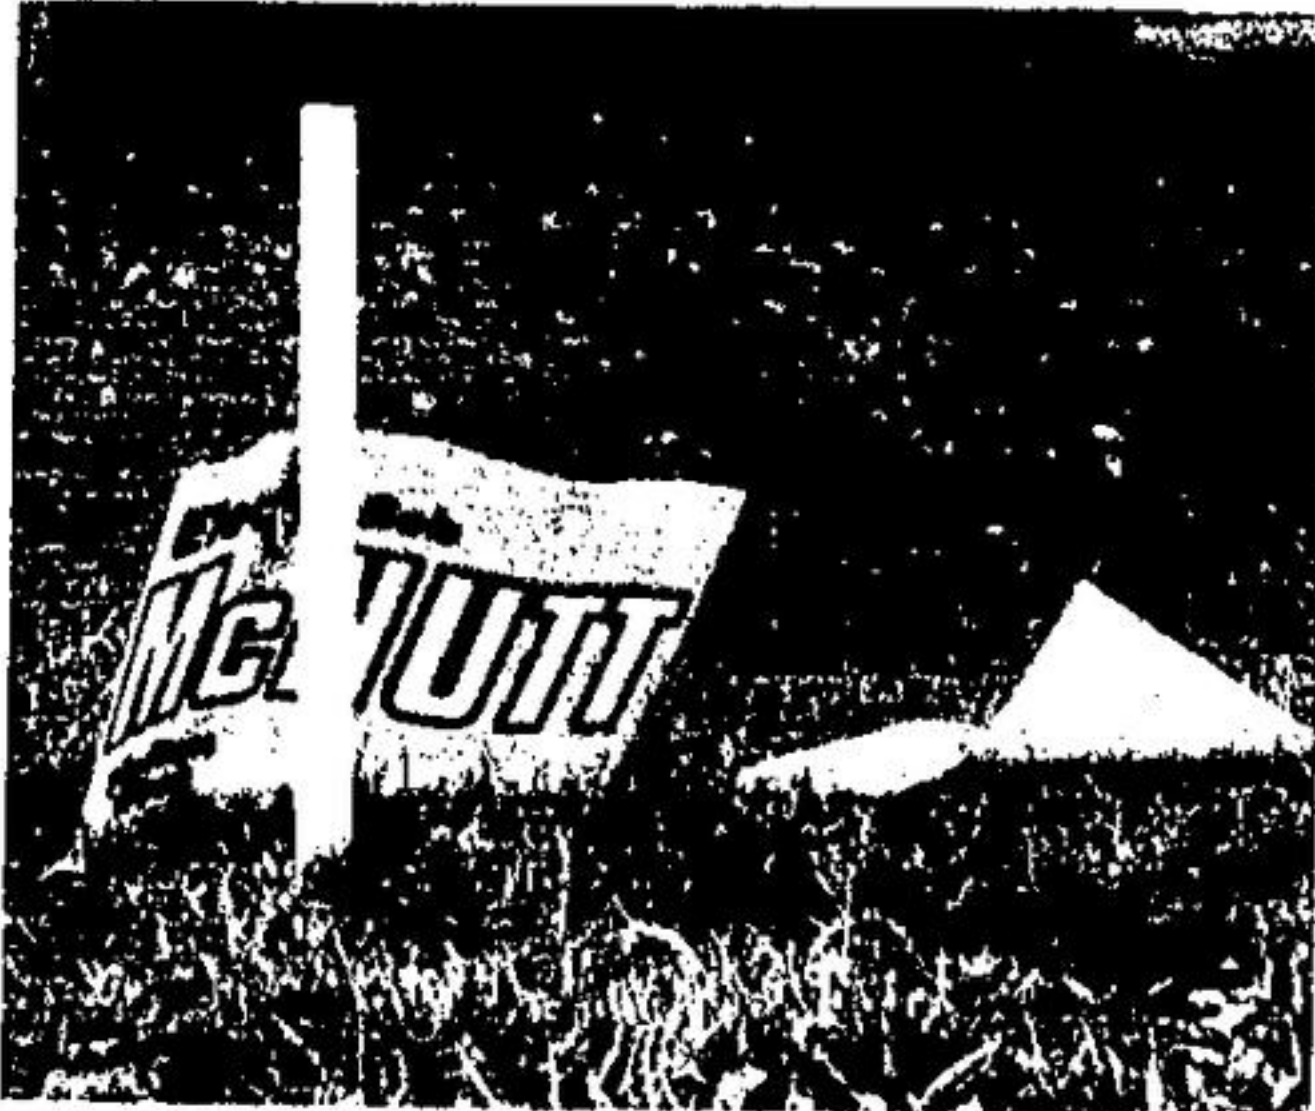

Although Ontario's economy after the 1970 recession was starting to move again in 1971, the provincial treasurer's April budget helped to encourage business to expand. There were loans to Canadian businesses, tax incentives, and the step-up of the housing program.

Ontario Housing Corporation has built 80,000 units this year—more public housing since its beginning in 1967 than all other provinces put together.

Slowing down
Now the surtax, things are slowing down again. "I'm worried, and we've got to take steps to offset it," asserts Mr. Kerr. We've got to make sure industry stays prosperous.

Again, he sees co-operation with the federal government to offset the surtax. Mr. Davis and Mr. Trudeau will be meeting "after the election" says Mr. Kerr confidently. To set up trade programs, make plans and attempt to diversify trade so we are not so dependent on the U.S. As well as winter works, and work on sewers and housing, he feels such primary products as iron ore and pulp should be processed in Ontario.

THE FREE PRESS received calls last week about vandalism in connection with election signs. These two signs were among those we discovered torn down. A Liberal party spokesman said five of the 10 huge wooden signs Acton was allotted have been damaged in some way.—(Staff Photo)

Susan Bruce heads 4-H unit

The Bannockburn 4-H group held its first meeting at the home of Linda Kirkwood on September 25, supervised by leader Mrs. Jeannette Cox, and assistant leader Mrs. Lois Henderson. The present unit sponsored by the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food is titled "Focus on Fitness".
The meeting commenced with the recitation of the 4-H pledge followed by the election of officers. The new president is Susan Bruce, vice president Lene Larsen, secretary Brenda Kingmill, treasurer Barbara Zain, and press reporter Sharon Ellerby.

Activities
Mrs. Jeannette Cox discussed that each member will learn about public health services, safety, first aid, good use of leisure time and many other topics. Through the course of the unit, activities include the assembling of a first aid kit, and one handicraft item.
Pamphlets were handed out, and plans were made regarding record books, trips and finances. It was agreed that a small collection would be required, and that everyone must think of a club name. The leaders discussed mental and physical health.

received his degree in Geology at the University of New Brunswick. He took a year off and hitch-hiked around Europe before attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass. It was there he met his wife, a girl from Vermont.

Now assistant professor of geology at McMaster, he has two children and another one on the way. He lives in the Aldershot area of Burlington on Shadeland Ave., commuting to the university. He's a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, the Canadian Audubon Society and the Algonquin Wildlands League.

He admits his family has a lifelong Liberal connection which was personified by his grandfather on his mother's side, who was fond of exclaiming there were only two types of people: "Liberals and traitors."

land banks. By their own admission the O.H.C. are behind in building units, according to Mulkeiwich.

How does he feel about taking on a cabinet minister in his first political effort?
Mulkeiwich admits Mr. Kerr is a formidable opponent, who "makes you work that much harder," but is quick to point out there are 20,000 more people in the riding than there were in 1967, the time of the last provincial election.

"The riding has a very mobile population. The fact that Mr. Kerr is the incumbent doesn't mean a great deal to the people who are moving in and out of it," he says.
"We have the best organization we've ever had in this riding. Our canvassers are coming back very enthusiastic," he reports happily.

Background
A teacher of history and world politics at Oakville-Trafalgar High School, Mulkeiwich is president of the Halton West New Democratic Party Association. He is an active layman and Sunday School teacher in the Burlington Baptist Church.

Now 31 years of age, he was born and raised on the family farm near Waterford. He is a graduate of McMaster University in history and politics and the Ontario College of Education as a specialist in history.

He is married and with his wife Beverly and daughters Shirie, 10, Junie, 8, and Miriam 4, lives at 459 Patricia Drive in the Aldershot end of Burlington. The Mulkeiwichs have lived in Burlington for the past nine years with the exception of one year spent in Inuvik, North West Territories.

Ospringle

Antiques, V.O.N. canvass trip, fair wins in news

By Doris Fines
Max Storey was guest speaker at the October meeting of the Ospringle W.I. He had on display many pieces of his personal collection of antiques.

While the ladies sat on a mixed variety of ancient chairs, Mr. Storey let them view the beautiful old china and glassware, while enlightening them on the proper names and worth of the different items.

Mrs. E. Fisher was hostess to the thirteen ladies present. Mrs. D. G. Robertson read the scripture from Psalm 43.

Show antiques
The roll call was answered by bringing a small antique and among the variety shown was a Persian oil lamp, hand made scales, a sun-plaster (25c paper money), and a birth certificate of the year 1851.

Mrs. E. Fisher, Mrs. W. Milton and Mrs. D. G. Robertson were appointed delegates to the area convention in Dublin Street United Church, Guelph, Oct. 26 and 27.

A motion was passed to send a donation to the Muscular Dystrophy Association and also the membership fees to the Wellington County Historical Research Society.

Mr. John Sim, of Toronto, visited friends in the village on the weekend, and attended Erin Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hutchison and family of Kempsville, spent Thanksgiving weekend with Mrs. Hutchison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Aitken.

Erin Fair
Many from this community spent Thanksgiving Day at Erin Fair. We extend congratulations to the Milton and Ella families for their fine showing and winning of many prizes in the exhibit hall.

We are pleased to report Mr. Edgar Fryer returned home Friday from Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, where he underwent surgery on his back.

Miss Beverly Bruce R.N., Toronto and Robert Bruce, Hamilton were home for the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bruce.

Personal care meeting topic

Dublin Juniors held their third 4-H meeting at the home of president Sherry Ismond on Saturday, October 9. The meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge and the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. The roll call was answered by all. With "An interesting place I have visited"

Mrs. F. Kirton read on personal care on eyes, hair, teeth, feet and skin. They should be kept clean and neat.

Leaders gave out huck towelling and taught the girls how to do huck weaving.

Travel etiquette for Dublin Jrs.

The second meeting of the Dublin Juniors was held at the home of Penny Kirton. The president, Sherry Ismond, called the meeting to order with the 4-H pledge. They planned a hike for Saturday Oct. 9.

She also talked about "Travel Etiquette". Many people spend their holidays travelling. Don't be afraid, travelling is lots of fun. Our leaders gave a talk on what to look for on our hike. Sherry Ismond closed the meeting.

Why not check your ignition system before starting on a long trip. Are headlights, tail-lights, and flasher signals operating properly?
