CHRISTMAS IS THE LAUGHTER of children, the joy of living and the magic of Santa Claus. It's Christmas carols, family and friend togetherness, and the pleasure of giving. Christmas is the delight of understanding which is inspired every December 25 and if its motivation of love and good will could be continuous throughout the year the peace and good will we sing about could be reality fulfilled. Children of Eramosa join together to wish everyone a joyous Christmas Season and the realization of love, friendships, and prosperity throughout the coming year.—(Photo by Lorraine)

Comin's and Goin's

A new innovation in Christmas Sunday services was held in the Presbyterian School Hall last Sunday when, instead of the regular adult service a Christmas concert was its replacement and lunch and refreshments were served afterwards. It was such fun that already other village churches are wondering if they shouldn't copy cat and have a Christmas Presbyterian Concert in their own church halls next year.

Hey, folks are seeing Santa around everywhere this year. Over last weekend several people saw him driving in Guelph wearing sun glasses and smoking a pipe. Watch that habit, Santa Claus, let's not have a chimney fire before Christmas.

Rev. Ken and Sally Cardwell entertained the members of the St. John's Church congregation with a house party in Erin last Thursday evening and it was carol singing and charades with the ladies winning most of the points, then a delicious lunch with coffee and homeward bound to Rockwood.

"It's real Dutch weather you're having" said Mrs. P. Roos who came from Haarlem, Holland, to visit her daughter Elsie and her son-in-law Peter Tencate and their young family over Christmas. Mrs. Roos arrived in last Tuesday's snow storm and will be leaving for home come January 12. Welcome to Canada, Mrs. Roos, and a genuine Rockwood Merry Christmas to you too.

The teachers, regular and supply staff had a delightful party last Saturday night when a buffet supper and dance from 7 to 12:00 also included the secretary, janitor, and past teaching staff and their husbands. Everyone had a great time and, after Friday's success they deserved it.

Rockwood sends its best wishes and hopes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Frank Ostrander who is presently a patient in a Toronto Hospital. Get better soon, Mrs. Ostrander; we're sorry you're ill.

The combined church choral service held at the United Church last Sunday was one of candlelight and laymen participation as three lay readers and ministers from the Anglican, Presbyterian, and United Churches, read Bible passages and lit candles during the service. The combined choir consisted of members from the United Church and during the service the congregation joined in the singing of the traditional Christmas carols.

FIRST CHRISTMAS CARD

Henry Cole, an imaginative and distinguished Londoner, originated the practice of sending Christmas cards in 1843, according to researchers. Cole asked an artist friend, John Calcott Horsley of the Royal Academy to design the card. It consisted of three panels with the main illustration, in the centre showing a family party in progress, the elders with wine glasses raised in a toast to the recipient.
