Worst snow conditions block lines

By Mrs. R. Shortill

Mrs. Don Brown had the topic and Mrs. Gloria Johnson presented a splendid program on the new study book on Africa at the U.C.W. meeting on Tuesday night. With a large map and poster, it was clearly brought to the attention of her listeners just how very important the continent of Africa is to the world. The meeting was at the home of Elsie Swindlehurst. Lunch was served by Viola Shortill, Alma Sinclair and the hostess. Several matters of business were discussed—the presbyterial on Thursday, to which delegates will attend. Serving for welfare was planned. Quilting bee

On Wednesday about 16 ladies gathered in the church basement for a quilt making bee. Patches and other necessities were brought. Some of the sewers came prepared for a pot luck lunch. Others were only in attendance for the afternoon.

Two large quilts were completed and about ten small ones or crib quilts. These should go a long way to help those who are less fortunate in these cold times.

Dance

A dance was held at the Community Centre on Saturday night. In spite of the cold windy night a good crowd attended. Concern was felt for the Al Dermott's orchestra for fear their trip home would be hazardous as they came from Shelburne.

It was Cubs and Scouts Sunday at the church. A nice turn-out of cubs and scouts as well as a seat full of Brownies—all with their leaders.

Mrs. Ernie McEnery was at the organ with her usual fitting music. Mr. Johnston's sermon was especially for young people. Many who lived on the 6th, 8th, and 9th lines were unable to get out for snow banks. It seems to have been the worst storm of the season with snow plows going all day on Sunday.

Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Briggs are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary this week end with a trip north.

We congratulate them. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kroezen, town line have a new baby daughter recently

Mrs. Varcoe breaks knee

The flowers in church were in loving memory of Mr. Earnest Tosh, who passed away last week, after a long and useful life. Sympathy is extended to his family, in particular two of his daughters, Mrs. Don Early and Mrs. Jan Norrish.

Mr. Finley continued his series on the miracles of Jesus, of which six appear in the first chapter of Mark. When Jesus worked with people, we think of the way they believed. Everyone believed that there was no sin without suffering, and no suffering without sin. We know that is not right. We
