News from Eden Mills

Ladies of the U.C.W. of Eden Mills United Church held a successful baking sale at the community hall Saturday.

Sympathy of the community goes out to postmaster John Turner in the death of his mother.

by Doris Fines
Wee Stephanie Calvar stole the show while strolling in the spotlight with her mother in Ospringle school auditorium Wednesday evening.

The fashion show by Vera B of Erin was very well attended, and models looked lovely in their various spring outfits.

The predominating colour combination is red, white and blue. There are no hot pants this year, but sizzle pants instead.

The models were: Penny Jane Brown, Sally Ann Calvar, Mary Lou Goodwin, Jennifer Chambers, Rosemary Cartmell, Winnie White, Gladys Lang, and baby Stephanie Calvar, who thoroughly enjoyed being pushed in an 1890's wicker stroller. The white poodle looked smart, too, with ribbons in her hair.

The winners of the door prizes were: Mrs. J.B. Ledger, flowers, donated by Mrs. Vernon Stewart; Mrs. George Rudder, chocolates, donated by Mrs. D.M. Dudrik; Mr. H.R. Howard, hair spray donated by Mrs. Gladys Lang; Mrs. Barry Clarke, ornament, donated by Vera B.

Mrs. Ward Bruce thanked Vera B, and the models for a wonderful show, and on behalf of the Ladies Aid, Karen Pankratz presented Mrs. Brown with a bouquet of yellow rose buds.

The women of the Ladies Aid served pie and coffee, and there was also a bake table if you wanted to purchase something to take home.
