Avoid Breakdown

Summer ushers in vacation time for most families—and this means many miles on the family car—usually with the air conditioner running full blast.

All the belt-driven accessories on modern cars take varying amounts of horsepower to drive and if the belts aren't installed and tensioned properly, belt failure can occur. Costly, time-consuming road breakdowns can ruin an otherwise pleasant family vacation.

You can save time and trouble by getting your serviceman to check the belt drives at the start of summer—vacation trip or no vacation trip.

CUT POLLUTION

A misfiring spark plug can increase unburned hydrocarbon emission by 300 percent. A tune-up can correct the problem.

LIGHT COUNT

The average car has 38 light bulbs. Every one is important. Be sure they all work.
