Celebrate Sr. Citizens Week at Manor

Halton Centennial Manor in Milton will be holding its annual lawn party Saturday, June 24 to coincide with Senior Citizens Week.

The party will include games of chance, a bake sale, cold lunch and a wide variety of entertainment. The fun will get underway about 1.30 and continue through the afternoon.

Service clubs and the various Legions in the county have been invited to take part in the gala event and most of them will be making an effort to help out.

ACTON COUNCIL BRIEFS

Councillor Norm Elliott expressed concern about the number of vehicles exiting from the Foodland and Canadian Tire parking lots on to Mill St., when there are already side street exits provided.

Mayor Les Duby recommended council make a study of all town streets to investigate the need for erection of proper signs. Requests by Reeve Frank Oakes for erection of a stop sign on Holmesway Place near the senior citizens and geared to income housing units and by Councillor Bill Coats for one at the new Cobblehill Rd. exit to Fairview cemetery prompted the mayor's recommendation.

Deputy-reeve Pat McKenzie suggested a couple of picnic tables be placed on the grounds surrounding the Centennial library. He said many people are already eating lunch on the grounds.

Relatives too

Relatives of the residents have been invited to attend the function and visit on that day.

Assistant superintendent of the Manor Jack Charlton indicated several busloads of senior citizens from around the county will attend the function.

Milton Girls Pipe Band, Acton Legion Choralliers, Acton Citizens' Band and Georgetown Drum Majorettes will provide entertainment during the day along with tap and highland dancers and folk singers.

Mr. Charlton said the entire thrust of the Manor's recognition of senior citizens' week will be concentrated on the one day.

Engineer present

The official opening of the gigantic Churchill Falls power project last week was of particular interest to Acton family and friends of Jack Mainprize of Montreal. As the engineer in charge of installing turbines there for Dominion Engineering Company, he has been working at Churchill Falls in Labrador, Newfoundland, since last September. He has an occasional visit home to Montreal with his wife and children, and an occasional phone call here to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mainprize and brother Bill.

Hundreds of people worked and lived at the remote site to build the dams and power plant.

It will supply power for Hydro Quebec.

P.M. Present

Mr. Mainprize is a graduate of the University of Toronto in engineering.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau was among the many dignitaries who attended the official opening ceremonies. Buses, waitresses, supplies, and carpenters to build stands all had to be transported up to the site for the event. A regular townsite had been built but the influx of visitors was too much for the normal services to handle.
