Children aid handicapped

Lakewood subdivision children raised $25 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association at an afternoon circus they staged at the Tolley Ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. Gil Malcolm Thursday afternoon.

The children got the idea from watching the "Commander Tom" show on a Buffalo TV station.

Included on the circus program were a play "Puss 'n Boots" starring Linda and Judy Shadbolt, Deborah Ruppert and Laurie Pickles, singing, dancing, a hypnotist woman (Linda Shadbolt) and a charming Scottish lassie who turned out to be Scott Malcolm in disguise. Popcorn, peanuts, drinks and grab bags were sold to the audience as refreshments.

Helping to organize the circus were Linda Shadbolt, Karl Aitken, Scott Malcolm, Heather Reed, Vicki Bristow, Laurie Pickles, Sherry Lindsay, Judy Shadbolt and Deborah Ruppert.

Sportsmen's show....

Kelly of the Guelph Mercury, Ron Planché of the Oakville Daily Journal Record, Dry Chapman of Acton Council, Jack Carpenter of TV13 Kitchener and his wife.

Jon Hartlin and Paul Nielsen gave demonstrations of scuba diving to spectators Sunday and other members of the club demonstrated the sport Saturday. There was also a display of equipment.

There were ball games and films of the Indianapolis 500 were shown continuously in the arena.

Back again
Although crowds and weather were disappointing the five Acton clubs sponsoring the Sportsmen's Show anticipate they will be back again next Labor Day weekend. "After all" a spokesman said, "we aren't trying to make money."

Some of the enthusiasm for the show was dampened by the disclosure that several bottles of liquor destined for the bar at Saturday's dance were stolen, but police are working on clues which may identify those who helped themselves.

On the show committee were chairman Staley from Rotary, Hank Ruppert from the Halton Antique Arms Collectors Association, Don McDonald of Rotary, Vic Bristow of the Lions, John Bomans of the Y's Men, Kevin Conroy and Roy Goodwin of the Chamber of Commerce.

Apologies for any discomfort

The Free Press regrets any embarrassment which may have been caused to the proprietor of Acton Family Billiards as the result of a recent article on Acton's main street.

The article was not intended to be derogatory in any way to either Mr. Jerama, his ability as a merchant, question his integrity or suggest he would not co-operate with neighboring businesses in a business facelift.

There was a technical problem in the printing of the article which may have seemed to infer this. The Free Press apologizes for any discomfort it might have caused Mr. Jerama or any other business which might have been mentioned.
