

By Wendy Thomson

It seems that quite a few women answered an Esquesing township ad for traffic counters, last week. It was lucky, I guess, that Gord pointed it out and headed me in the general direction of the phone as

I wasn't that keen about sitting in the leaky old truck all day, but Gord let me have the Rambler and will sulfer through the leaks,

And this year, for once, maybe I won't have to pick Gord's pockets to buy him a Christmas present.

am, nicely ensconced at the setter has come trotting up the corner of the Third line and 24 road for a better look. Sideroad (I thing), heater on, for in the past 10 minutes, 19 in this fog. trucks have gone by, and I'm sort of wishing for a sign to sit on top curiosity.

shot. I can just hear the people who have been keeping an eye on this car, - "Yup, there's her man, now. Backroads meeting." Sorry, it was only my supervisor checking to see if I

CAN count, as claimed. Hate to turn the car off, but the heat is making me dopey. Moresleep last night would have helped, but it was Erin Council night and I didn't get home till midnight - then lay awake thinking of how early I had to get

Gem from CHIC Radio; "Passion is what drives a man to bite his girl's neck because she has beautiful legs."

No Go? 8:30 All the handy instructions left out something quite important, - what does one do when one has to GO?! Maybe they figured a quick dash into the bushes wouldn't hurt anyone (as long as they kept count from behind their bush). However, there's no way I'll head through the tall grass into the low brush, all of which has been rained on all night.

9:00 This truck traffic interests me, because my parents once considered buying the big stone house right on the corner. They decided against a home that close to railroad tracks that was bad enough, but the truck traffic would have driven them to distraction!

9:30 Must look like a fool. sitting here wrapped in a pink blanket, crocheting like mad and singing "Someone Stole my Kishka" at the top of my voice.

November 2, 7 a.m. So here I As a matter of fact, a big red

10 a.m. and one hour to go for wipers going, 4-way blinkers this spot. I've finished off my winking, equipped with two ham sandwich and carrot, used books, crocheting, cushion, up one ball of yarn on five and a blanket, harn sandwich, and a hulf rows of vest, and broken the lead on my pencil. Maybe It's 7:15 They said between 7 and 8 time to start my spy paperback, would be the busiest time. It but I'm afraid of getting too seems that I am on a truck robte, engrossed and letting cars get by

2 p.m. I'm at my second spot, now, at the corner of the First of the car saying "TRAFFIC line and 22 Sideroad. I don't see SURVEY" to settle the obvious how this can be a true count, as the 22 sideroad is so pot-holey 8 a.m. Five cars and 18 trucks that personally, I go out of my later. My reputation has been way to stay off it, and I'm sure I'm not the only one.

> 2:30 Traffic here is fairly scarce, but not as bad as the spot they had slated for another woman, - they started to send her to the corner of the Third Line and 17 Sideroad! Those that know the area will get a laugh out of that, and for the others I'll explain that the last time I was through there, it was by horse, and even Velvet had to pick her way and watch where she was going. That intersection just about ISN'T!

5:30 This last hour is going quite slowly. I've been sitting here, half asleep, in the dusk, looking at the dark greyness of a bare elm against the fuzzy fog. It reminds me of something long ago, but I can't remember what.

I'm writing this by the light from the glove compartment, listening to a favourite song, -Sylvia Tyson and "Truckers Cafe" and am quite intrigued to find it's in exact time to my blinkers. Maybe that's what's called audience participation.

5:45 Have been sort of dreading the thought of somebody coming up and saying "What the heck are you doing sitting here!" but it wasn't all that bad. Twice, gentlemen in trucks stopped to see if I needed assistance. It's nice to know that help is more available in our area than it is out the other side of town. 6:00 And home!

Footnote: Was in bed by 7 and slept till 7. Gord wants to know what I'd do if I had to WORK!.

Shultis - Colclough vows in Hamilton October 21

→ 日本日本日本日本

Melrose United Church, Hamilton, was the setting on Saturday, October 21 at 4 p.m. for a lovely candlelight wedding. United in marriage by Rev. Stanford Lucyk were Elizabeth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Colclough of Hamilton and

Roy Shultis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shultle of Acton. The bride escorted by her father were a full length gown of white satin with lace appliques and satin ribbon and chapellength train. Her shoulder-length veil was caught with petals of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white daisles.

Three attendants Susan Gowans, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmalds were Bettyann Colclough, sister-in-law of the bride and a friend Judy Lawrence. They were gowned alike in long gowns, with a dark green velvet bodice and full plaid taffeta skirt. Each carried a nosegay of red roses and peppermint carnations.

Groomsman was Jim Sampson a friend of the groom. Ushers were Bruce Shultis, brother of the groom and the bride's brother Tom Colclough of Brantford, All wore navy blazers, grey trousers with matching blue shirts and

Reception

The reception followed at the Faculty University.

Welcoming guests was the bride's mother wearing a full green peau de sole trimmed in grandparents. gold and pearled beading. She had tiny green rosettes in her hair with matching gold accessories.

The groom's mother assisted wearing a long gown of brown polyester crimp knit with autumn shades of orange and gold in the bodice and on an applique down

Circle Day of Prayer and also the Christmas party in December.

convener.

Members of the Marion Rudd Mission Circle of the Baptist church met at the home of Lil Wagner for their November meeting. The program was in charge of Elda Fryer and Edna Gordon and was a celebration of the Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer. This day was begun when women met to pray for those involved in the ravages of war and accounts of how it was spent in many countries. Prayers were given for Baptist visitors in Japan, India, Finland, and other countries around the world. The theme was Reconciliation to

Box for India

Jesus Christ.

During the business a report was given on the box recently packed to be sent to Miss Winnifred Paskall of Tuni. India. Plans were made for the coming of Shirley Thompson with a candle making demonstration

WEDDING scripture followed by a hymn and YOUR WEDDING STORY IN COLOR BY

Wm. Stuckey 853-2269

MARRIED IN Hamilton were Elizabeth Ann Colclough and Roy Shultis. Both assessors, they are living in Islington.

the front of skirt. She wore matching gold accessories.

Tonstmuster was Club at McMaster Sampson. Honored guests attending were Albert Shultis of Rockwood and Mrs. George Fryer of Acton, the groom's

Other guests were from Acton, Rockwood, Toronto, Tottenham, Ottawa, Hamilton and Brantford.

For travelling the bride chose a red wool suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage. After a week's honeymoon in the Georgian Bay area the couple returned to their new home at 24 Burnhamthorpe Rd. is Islington.

The president Marj Land-

sborough chaired the meeting and Edna Price was courtesy assessors for International Revenue in Toronto.

Hamilton.

Both assessors Both the bride and groom are was guest of honor at two showers, the first given by Mrs. Dorance Matheson and Mrs. Alvey Gordon in Acton, the second by Miss Susan Gowens in Toronto. Presentation tea was given by Mrs. W.E. Griffin and Mrs. R.M. Lymburner of held at Luxton Memorial Hall on Saturday, Nov. 4, with a large crowd attending. It was one of the most successful bazanrs ever This year the upstairs room was occupied solely by the bazanr tables and the newlydecorated downstairs room, Centennial Lounge, attractively held ten tables.

held by the A.C.W.

Free Press

Centennial fall bazaar

held by A.C.W. Saturday

In charge of the tea was Mrs. Louise Lindsay; baking Mrs. May Fountain; crafts Mrs. Marle Ha: grave; touch and take Mrs. Murchison; fish pond Mrs. Lorna Clarke; white elephant Mrs. June Hunter.

There were added attractions this year with two guessing games - one prize a doll dressed in Scottish attire, the other a jar full of jelly beans. Mrs. K. Alger won the doll and Mrs. Fountain the jelly beans.

The door prize, a hand made quilt, was won by Mrs. T. Jones. The lovely centrepiece which graced the head table was won by Mrs. J Ball.

A.C.W. meeting The bazaar followed plans ·finalized at the monthly meeting Prior to the wedding the bride on Wednesday evening, held at the home of the Rector and his wife. The roll call was answered by 16 members with "A person who influenced my life". The nominating committee was selected for the December meeting when the new executive will be named for the coming

Where do you stand?

Brethren of Messiah

Box 132, Acton, Ont.

Jesus is coming!

PUBLIC NOTICE

The office of the Court of Canadian Citizenship will be opened in the Town Hall, Committee Room, 2nd Floor, Milton, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. (Lunch hour 12 noon to 12:30 p.m.) for the month of November on the following dates:

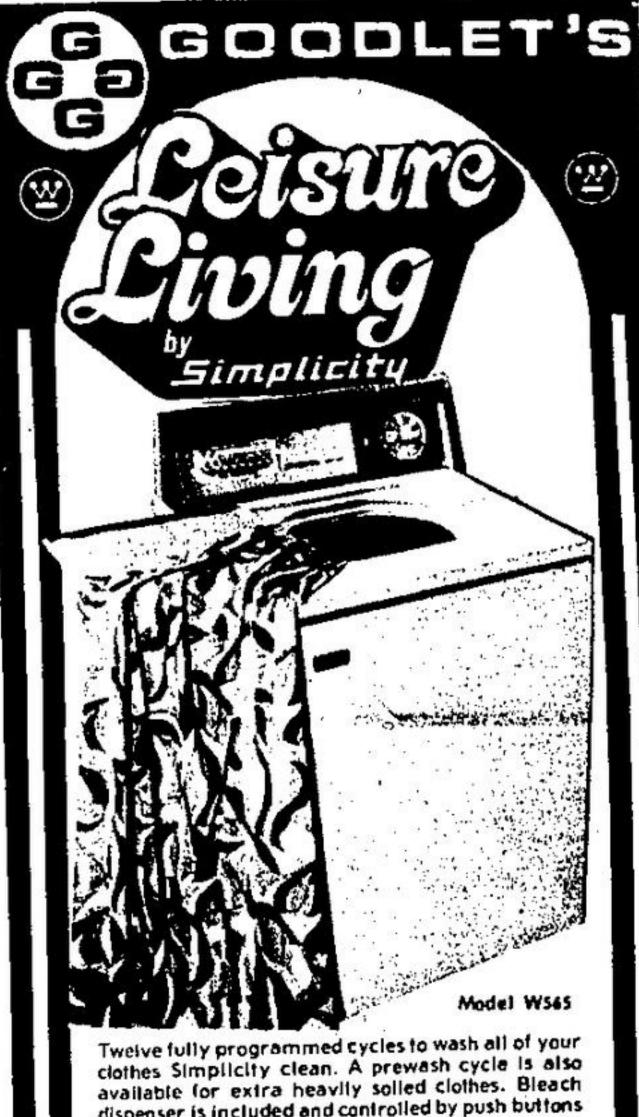

Friday, November 10th and November 24th, 1972 (Alternate Fridays thereafter)

Family Page

EVERY MONDAY NIGHT & P.M. EVERY GAME

> $E000 PLUS

2 Jackpots Given Away Every Monday Admission $1.00 -- Cards 25c each dispenser is included and controlled by push buttons on the console. Push a program button on the fully illuminated, leather grained control panel and your Simplicity washer does the rest. A labric conditioner dispenser is featured on the W565. Exclusive Simplicity 2 Year Parts Warranty. Only 27 gallons of water required for complete regular wash cycle. Special soao cycle. Whisper-Drive transmission warranted for 5 years.

877-2551 DOWNTOWN GEORGETOWN

Mrs. Eaton speaker told of her travels and some of

The November meeting of the Daughters of Knox was held in her experiences in India during the Miss Ellen Anderson room on the seven months she was there. Monday evening, Mrs. Robert Paul, the president opened the meeting and Living for Jesus and the mottos were repeated in unison. Mrs. E.A. Hansen, in the absence of Mrs. Harold Swallow, read the minutes. The roll call was answered by 15 members with orders for mincemeat. Final plans were made to make the on Monday, mincemeat November 13. During the business, cards of thanks were read, and Mrs. William Toth, Mrs. Clifford Ashley and Mrs. Brian Moore were named for the nominating committee.

Tells of India Mrs. Brian Moore introduced Mrs. Lillian Eaton to speak on The Land of India and its People from our study book. Mrs. Eaton

At that time her son and his family were missionaries in

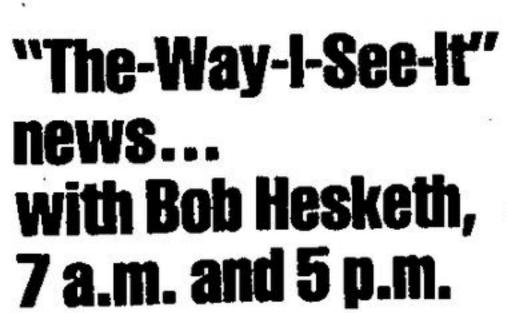

Mrs. Robert Paul read

Practice menus

The fourth meeting of the Greenock 4-H club was held at the home of Donna Milton on Oct. 14 at 10 a.m. There were seven members present.

Leah Leslie demonstrated how to make cheese crisps, while Nancy DeGraff demonstrated how to make salmon dip.

They discussed how to set up a menu. The members were divided into groups of two, to write a practice menu for a meal which does not have any dairy products in it.

CFRB's Bob Hesketh has a happy talent for making news interesting with his own personal stant on the day's happenings. Of course, not even a Bob Hesketh can plways make palatable reports on pollution, war and politics. Yet he strives to give listeners a small chuckle somewhere along the line in spite of the trend in news today.

On weekends. Bob Hesketh takes an informal editorial stance before the CFRB microphone to comment on just about everything. "I'm concerned about what happens to my country and the people who live in it," declares Bob. "Sometimes their stresses are taken lightly and sometimes seriously. However taken, they are at least expressed. I believe that is important," This CFAB feature is labelled "The Way I See It" and here Bob Hesketh shines as a perceptive humourist with a keen wit.

Always good listening.

Long Gowns

The Style House for all ages

10 Main St. N. Georgetown