Comin's and Goin's

The sympathy of village residents are sent to Dan Ferguson in the recent bereavement of his father who passed away in Scotland this week and Dan is now overseas.

What would we do without friends and once again this was brought home when Leslie Ferguson made a move to what used to be the Chuck Petty abode and, with Dan away, all her friends came to her assistance to pack, load, move, and unload, it's a great world and people are wonderful and we hope you're happy in your new surroundings.

Rockwood can be proud that one of her most delightful citizens was chosen guest speaker at the reunion dinner of the Royal Regiment of Canada Association held on Saturday, November 11 at the Ontario Room of the Lord

Simcoe Hotel in Toronto. Who was the honored speaker? Why Major Vincent Price, Q.C. of course, and his friends wish they could have been there to applaud but feel it's a tribute to have him in their community. Nice going, Vincent, we're glad to be friends with you.

Christmas bells will be ringing when you visit the Brownie, Cub, Girl Guide, Boy Scout, gala bazaar next Saturday, December 2 at the Rockwood Centennial School when luscious home bakery items, special handicrafts by the cubs-guides-brownies, Christmas decorations, etceteras and etceteras all sparkly with tinsel will be sold as well as books and a place to sit and drink coffee and read or chat with friends. Make it your day with the hour set at 2:00 until 4:00. Just know you are welcome!

Bazaar to benefit church

It was come and go from 2 to 5 all last Saturday afternoon at the Mimosa United Church as mounds of toys, home-baked goodies, stuffed creations and novelties as well as Christmas decorations gradually disappeared marking the first time Holiday Bazaar a number one success for the Mimosa ladies.

If it's a drive, a cup of coffee, and a stock-up on Christmas toy items you're after, check on Trudy (Mrs. Bill Adsett) on the 7th line of Eramosa next Thursday around 8:30 p.m. and all the happy-go-lucky ladies of the Mimosa United Church will help with your selection of some adorable stuffed animals and cushions. There'll be friendship, fun, and food, all for free.

Hey, it's congrats and recognition to Mr. Earl Brown who was recently feted to a party in Dundas for his retirement from the Hamilton Division sand camp for which he received a plaque commemorating his services.

Parents witness cub enrolment

A large number of parents were delighted last Monday night to witness their young sons participating in the official enrolment and first step into the outstanding organization of the Boy Scouts of Canada.

Shining and scrubbed the candidates for investiture waited in sixes to be inspected and then, inspection completed, they formed a circle as Akela Vic Johnson, assisted by Bagheera Mavis Johnson ran them through their paces and accepted their small boy salutes. Each of the boys were presented with immaculate yellow ties and their standard badges, The Wellington and Ontario Crests and the Wolf

Cub head as well as the Rockwood arm band.

Games, contests

After the affective service, conducted in softened lights with candle lighted logs, the boys then participated in games of fun and competition under the leadership of Kotic, Claire McDougal and Kaa, Gord Tosh.

Later they were treated to refreshments as were the parents who enjoyed the opportunity of seeing the physical activities of the children under qualified leadership.

The present Rockwood pack has been running for two years under Akela Johnson and was previous to that, May Swackhammer was the Akela with meetings held at the Town Hall. The present group of Cubs holds its meetings at the Rockwood Centennial School children with greater freedom and better facilities.

Music stressed

Rockwood United Church swelled last Sunday from musical strains and solos as the District Young Peoples of both Rockwood and Stone Church groups combined their talents with the Stone United Junior Choir under the leadership of Millie Smith.

Much credit for the tremendous enthusiasm displayed by the Young Peoples is given to this year's counsellors Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. Keith McDougall as well as Music Directors Millie Smith and Wayne Duffield. All have worked diligently with the young people aiding them in their year round planning giving them required direction when necessary.

On program

On Sunday's program Wesley Harris gave an instrumental Violin Solo, Frank Stokman played a guitar solo and a sister and brother team Helen and Morgan Craixie sang a duet.

Val Hall read the Indian version of the 23rd Psalm and group singing with audience participation was led by Helen Craixie and Peggy Salmon as Gordon Tosh lead the congregation in hymnal rounds. Peggy and Helen culminated the program with their rendition of Shalom.

There had been no sermon but the congregation was responsive to the singing in Christian fellowship and afterwards many of those present enjoyed refreshments in the downstairs Sunday School room.
