moving traffic from the side of the road. Fortunately neither child was seriously hurt.

Parents should remember that they can never be too careful when it comes to the safety of their children. It is the parents' responsibility to make sure that their child is kept free of danger.

It should not be left up to school teachers to instruct your child on traffic safety. Pre-school age children can be taught to play away from traffic and how to cross the street safely.

Don't let a tragedy make you aware of your responsibility as a parent.
