Nine new families have been welcomed to Acton recently by the Ft. Neighbour Welcome Service.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Walker and daughter are living now at 136 Bower; they moved here from Guildford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gudgson and two youngsters are living at 50 Longfield. They came from Brampton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Saville are at 50 Cobblehill Rd. They have a son and daughter, and come from Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Pratt and two children moved from Toronto to 44 Church St.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kroes have five children, came into town from Cremons Corners and are living at 255 Arthur St.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stewart came from Peterborough to 4 Rosemary Rd. Their family is growing up; Mr. Stewart lived in Acton area years ago and he is now retired.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Shymko moved from Thornhill to 14 Division St.

Recently married, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bailey came from Windsor to 22 Scene St.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clouston have five children; they have moved from Oakville to 251 Main N. Mr. Clouston is the only man in the new group who works in town.

A hearty welcome to all these new people to our town.

Members of the parish council met at St. Alban's church with Bishop Bothwell last week.

Mrs. Sue Pink and Miss Florence Wilkin are home again after a long-awaited trip that took them to Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia, and Japan. They have many vivid impressions of these different places. While away they had a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Alan J. Buchanan in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Velb of Hoorn, Holland, have had their first visit to Canada and enjoyed seeing relatives and different places, despite the fact they could only stay two weeks. They stayed here with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. Vlietstra and also visited with her sister in Hamilton and her brother in Exeter. Mr. Velb is a wholesaler in meat in Holland and was particularly interested in the controversy over the price of meat while he was here. He had a tour of Canada Packers arranged for him and went to see the Kitchener market one day. The Velbs have two children at home, Bart, who is 15 years old and Jetty, 17, who hopes to come over to Canada next year.

Ladies' fair board seeks new members

The ladies' division of the Acton Agricultural Society met April 5 at the home of Mrs. Robinson. A committee was formed to invite the wives of the members of the men's fair board to a pot luck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Matthews on the evening of April 30, in an effort to obtain new members for the ladies' fair board.

Mrs. J. McEnery gave a very interesting report as a delegate to the fair board convention held recently in Toronto.

Easter meeting Knox Auxiliary

Reading a poem entitled No Trees on Calvary Miss Isobel Anderson opened the Easter thanksgiving meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary of Knox church held in the Ellen Anderson room April 12. The message of Easter was the theme throughout as Mrs. O. Moran and

The Rev. Larry Reese paid his first visit to St. Alban's last Sunday. He is director of the Department of Planning and Program for the diocese of Niagara.

The provincial annual meeting of the I.O.D.E. was held this week in Hamilton; attending from Lakeside Chapter were Mrs. C. Nelles, Mrs. D. Fritzell, Mrs. J. Jocque, Miss Elma Braida and Mrs. E. Footitt.

Mrs. Sam Brunelle and sons Steven and Paul were thrilled with the unexpected arrival of daughter Chris last week from Lahr, West Germany. She and Sheri Johnston of Rockwood have been working there since last fall. Chris also surprised her sister Bev. at the Perth Huron Nursing School in Stratford the same day. Early in May Chris plans to return to Lahr to meet Sheri and together they will travel through Europe for the summer months and be back home for school in the fall.

Free Press staffer Denis Gibbons returned to Canada by air Fri. April 8, following a 10 day tour of Spain sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of Sheridan College. A group of 60 photographers and artists flew from Montreal to Madrid, Tuesday, March 27, then on to Malaga on the beautiful Costa del Sol in Southern Spain. The group was based for the first seven days at the Hotel Tropicana in Torremolinos on the Mediterranean Sea and buses transported members each day to typical Spanish villages in the coastal mountains, where they were free to photograph, sketch or paint and mingle with the village inhabitants. Doug Boul of Mississauga, a photography instructor at the college in Oakville and Gerry Puley, a prominent Burlington artist and exhibitor were on hand to assist burgeoning talent and provide helpful criticism to the more advanced. The group transferred to Toledo for the final three days and travelled to the historic city of Toledo for a day where they viewed many of the fine works of the renowned painter El Greco. Ten day students from the college's Oakville campus made the trip, including three cinematography students, who filmed the entire tour. Although most of the travellers were from the Halton-Peel area, the group also included artists from Belleville, Peterborough, Scarboro, Agincourt, Kitchener and Guelph. Mrs. Dorothy Goodwin of Limehouse, a member of the Georgetown Arts and Crafts Association, was also among the group.

Each member had been asked to bring to the meeting a baby picture of herself which Mrs. McEnery projected on a screen. This caused considerable amusement trying to guess the owner of each picture.

Lunch was served by the hostess and committee and everyone enjoyed a social half hour. Mrs. S. Matthews was courtesy convener.

Mrs. F. McCutcheon led in a service of worship and Miss B. Roszell gave a reading Mary, Mother of Jesus, from the book God Speaks to Women Today by Eugenia Price.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, Mrs. Moran and Mrs. McCutcheon.

Double-ring ceremony Coker-Drinkwaller vows

Denise Drinkwaller and Randy Scott Coker were married in a double-ring ceremony Saturday afternoon, February 17. St. Alban's church was decorated with white bows, white carnations and mums and yellow roses for the ceremony performed by the Rev. H. Dawson. Mrs. B. F. G. Oakes played the wedding music including the themes from Love Story and Romeo and Juliet.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drinkwaller, Churchill Rd. N., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Coker, Mill St. E., Acton.

The bride wore a traditional long white gown with lace accents. Her lace-edged veil was held by a headpiece designed by Mrs. Evelyn Marshall. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, purple hyacinth and fern.

Her attendants were matron of honor Mrs. Dolores Rowsell, a friend; and bridesmaids Cathy Pryszak, a friend, Debbie and Janice Drinkwaller, her sisters. They wore long gowns of multi-colored crepe with pearl necklaces, the gifts of the bride. They carried pink carnations and baby's breath with different colored ribbons.

Robert Drinkwaller escorted his daughter down the aisle; Tim Coles was groomsmen and the ushers were Steve Garrett, Jack Irwin and David Drinkwaller.

The group was based for the first seven days at the Hotel Tropicana in Torremolinos on the Mediterranean Sea and buses transported members each day to typical Spanish villages in the coastal mountains, where they were free to photograph, sketch or paint and mingle with the village inhabitants. Doug Boul of Mississauga, a photography instructor at the college in Oakville and Gerry Puley, a prominent Burlington artist and exhibitor were on hand to assist burgeoning talent and provide helpful criticism to the more advanced. Mrs. Dorothy Goodwin of Limehouse, a member of the Georgetown Arts and Crafts Association, was also among the group.

The reception was held in the evening at Acton Meadows golf club.

The bride's mother wore pink crepe with pink accessories and yellow roses. The groom's mother chose mauve crepe with pink roses.

Guests attended from Acton, Huntsville, Midland, South River, Lindsay, Sudbury, Toronto, Erin, Brampton, Oshawa and Listowel.

Live in Kingston
The couple took a wedding trip to Toronto and Lindsay, the bride leaving wearing a yellow and navy pant suit with yellow rose corsage.

They are now living in Kingston. The groom has been transferred by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce

Sew-sew until show

Members of the Y's Menettes met for their monthly meeting on April 9, at the home of club secretary Anne Perry with a pleasing attendance.

Reminiscence is fun and the girls did just that when they passed around their wedding photo for their roll call.

Club president, Lynn Robertson, gave her monthly report and ideas for future projects were discussed, including their giant rummage sale to be held in June.

New members
During the meeting, the Y's Menettes were pleased to induct three new members Mary Lea Ball, Kathy Heaney and Anne Usher.

All plans for their up coming fashion show have been finalized. Tickets are now available from club members. Posters will soon be distributed to local stores and everything is "sew-sew" until May 18.

A pleasant evening came to a close when coffee was served and ice-cream topped the cake.
