

Limehouse

Father, son banquet held in Memorial Hall

By Mrs. A. Benton
The W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Leferink on Wed. evening with vice-pres. Mrs. Roughley in the chair, and 11 attending. Scripture was read by Mrs. Noble, and Mrs. Sanford led in prayer. Roll call and text word world were answered in a verse of Scripture and each read a current event of W.M.S. interest. Mrs. Kirkpatrick read two short articles concerning the time lines of the Bible and a study of the Bible by a psychiatrist, Mr. Ryan Huisenga accompanied himself on the piano for four songs, some composed by him, ending with the well known, I heard the Voice of Jesus Say. The hostess served a lovely variety lunch afterwards.

W.I. meeting
The Women's Institute met in Limehouse Memorial Hall on Thur. evening, pres. Mrs. Frank Brown in the chair and ten members and four visitors attending.

Correspondence brought discussions including preference for an early spring trip to Halton Centennial Manor, that Mrs. N. Anderson should attend a Family and Consumer Affairs workshop in Milton on May 16, and that delegates to the District Annual on May 23 should vote in favor of the Nelson resolution concerning business establishments should respect the Sabbath.

Live up to it
Mrs. Ellerby commented on the motto, Resolve to live up to the Mary Stewart Collect, advising us to live up to many of the old proverbs and sayings. She explained the Collect phrase by phrase comparing it to every day good living.

Roll call was answered by each noting a change made in our latest W.I. hand book.

History of prayer
Mrs. John Bird, alternate board director, was guest speaker, also choosing the Mary Stewart Collect, stating that it is a prayer being studied by church groups. She outlined Mary Stewart's early life leading to the writing of the poem. Women's clubs being organized in her early life were badly set up and progress of them was poor. Her prayer was adopted as a "Collect for Club Women". By 1904 it became a prayer often used as a wall plaque, and in 1949 was written into the Congress of Women's Institute meetings everywhere.

Old group
Mrs. Frost, a member of Ide Hill, one of the oldest W.I.'s in Kent, Eng., 25 miles from London, was a visitor. She showed a map, pamphlets and programs used there. Their membership of 40 has organized swim classes, walk ways clean ups, visits to industries, etc. Mrs. Brown presented a small gift to each speaker.

Confidence report
Mrs. Gordon Booth, district as well as branch convener of Citizenship and World Affairs, had attended the recent officers' conference at Waterloo University and brought a splendid report.

The nearly 700 delegates were taken on a tour of the university on 1100 acres attended by some 13,000 students, and by bus to the Erland Lee homestead at Stoney Creek, furnished in its period of the 1890's and belonging to the Women's Institutes of Ont.

Four freedoms
Rev. Dr. Findlay Stewart was another speaker who talked about the four freedoms. He said that all must excel to the best of his ability in his own field, but not to just do better than his neighbor. The delegate enjoyed the whole conference and the entertainment.

Hold banquet
Mrs. Hannah reported for the Limehouse Cubs that Roger Brown has just received his skaters badge.

The Cubs held their second Father and Son banquet May 9 in the Limehouse Memorial Hall. There was 100 per cent attendance plus special guests—Rev. Kevin Johnston from St. Andrews United Church, Georgetown, Gordon Douglas, District Commissioner, Terry Colter, the Assistant District Commissioner for Cubs; and Collin Vernon the past Group Committee chairman. The mothers provided hot casseroles, salads, rolls, and cookies with ice-cream, coffee and chocolate milk. Each boy received a special treat of a boy made from licorice all-sorts.

Propose toasts
Group committee chairman, Frank Hannah proposed the toast to the Queen and cub Wayne Anderson proposed the toast to the fathers replied to his father, Ron Anderson. Roger Brown thanked the mothers for providing the dinner.

Following welcome to guests, the Group Committee executive and Cub leaders were introduced. Rev. Kevin Johnston spoke to the boys about what it means to be in Cubbing. To illustrate his point he did some fancy cutting with paper and scissors and the boys are still wondering how he did it. Each of the four guests received a "souvenir of Limehouse", presented by Cubs Doug Hannah, Gordon and Kenny Thompson and Warren Crawford. Collin Vernon was presented a Wolf Cub pen stand for the work he had done as Committee chairman.

Leaders' course
Elaine Hannah recently attended a training session for new Cub leaders and was quite enthusiastic about the help given regarding the attitudes of leaders, the ins and outs of ceremonies and how to program meetings.
