Assessors may use twp. office
 Enquaving Council gave permission to the farm assessment crew of the province's Mississauga assessment branch to use the township office basement for five weeks while they update farm properties in Enquaving. Assessor Geoff Denny, R.R. 2, Acton, appeared before council to make the request, explaining the six men needed some place to hang their hats and eat lunch while they worked in the township. He expected the work would take four to five weeks. Presently they use his kitchen table. Council gave their permission provided the crew made some allowance for carparking and installation of their own telephone.

GUARD favors recycling

At a regular meeting of the (GUARD) committee held at the home of Fred Brooks, Wednesday, May 4, all members unanimously agreed that the garbage situation in Enquaving is too dead by any means. All members also agreed unanimously that recycling is the only answer to the massive garbage disposal problem. A press release issued by secretary Phyllis Still said GUARD will endorse any persons or organizations, who can come up with favorable methods of recycling. The release also stated that GUARD is anxiously awaiting the hydrologist's report and has discussed the need for retaining a lawyer, should the report be favorable and legislation proceed to attain their permits. Chairman Bill Johnson has returned from England. He commented that he is very impressed with the GUARD bumper stickers which are available from any member of the committee.

Triano Mixed
 May 6: Wildcats with games of 945-1178-949 to finish off their six game rollout, finished up with a total of 5233 for a decisive playoff win.  Well the banquet season is underway. Last Saturday evening the Triano Mixed league were singing and swaying at the Band Hall while the Mr. and Mrs. League of the Carrolling Garden Centre were whooping it up at the Legion. Both leagues had their elections for the 1972-73 season and the Triano executive will be, president, Nave Blanchard; vice-president Bill Gentles; secretary Lynda Harris and treasurer, Wally Hinden. Holding office for the Mr. and Mrs. League will be president, Nave Blanchard; vice-president Bill Gentles; secretary Lynda Harris and treasurer, June Bousfield. At the Mr. and Mrs. banquet, Ken Hulford on behalf of the Y.B.C. accepted from president Ron Robinson's $50 cheque donated by the league in aid of the youth bowling—that winds it up once again my friendlies, so adios amigos and goodnite Concord City.
