May 12: This was the big day that the Bantams had been waiting for, the day of the playoffs. Bowling for the league championship were the Cats, coached by Mary Anderson and the Donkeys coached by "Uncle Tinnie," Masales. In the Consolation rolloff it was the team of the Crabs coached by Guy Payne against the Whales coached by "Uncle Tinnie" Masales and it was a very busy morning for were rolling the final three games of a six game roll with the total pinfail to count, it developed into a last game, last frame, last bowler and last ball finish. With the Banzos having finished with a total of 3824, the Pin Busiers with 5866, the Ding-A-Lings who were still bowling out their last game, knew they had to bowl a 1060 game and the pressure was on. With coach Shirley Thomson urging her team to make every ball count and go for every pin. Susan Thomson, Michael Payne, John Sluadt, Peggy Huxley, Karen Van Der Eyken and Tins Kenedy rose to the occasion and with shricks from the girls and cheers from the boys the team caught fire and with the last bowler, Tina Kennedy, to bowl, Ding-A-Lings had a total of 1034 and 26 pins needed to nose out the Alley Busters by one pin. With the rest of the team making it a possibility, the Issue was up to Tina. Like a true champion, Tina rose to the occasion. Tina, whose average is a 121, had a score of 144 in the ninth and with her first ball in the tenth frame the Cats 1157. The second game saw the Donkeys increase their lead with a 1258 game, while the Cats bowled a 1182. The Cats tried hard in the third game and while their game of 1215 just beat out the Donkey's game of 1203, it left them still short of being the winners. The final result being, Donkeys 1571 and the Cats 3554. While with her first ball in the tenth frame left up the 3-1. With her second ball, Tina amidst the bediam of noise from her teammates and speciators alike, went into the pocket for a spare. With her hands shaking, and head bowed. afraid to look was coach Shirley Thomson, but Tina, with butterfiles in her stomach, picked up her last hall, took a deep breath, awang her arm forward in easy rhythm and delivered the ball right into the pocket for a strike and a 30 pin count and it was Ding-A-Lings, winners and champions by five piece $200.10 the Consolation, the Crabs got off to a slow start with a 949 game, while the Whales had a 1018. The second and third games went to the Crabs when they bowled 1030 and 1029 for a total of 2873. With all the Bantams trying their best, it would be hard to single out any one bowler but the top three for the Crabs were Peter Nellsen 455, Lynn Elliott 401 and Doug Leece 363. The best for the Whales were Joanne the Alley Busters who came up with their rousing effort to make it one of the most exciting finish in the Acton Lanes Youth Bowling.

While the Pin Busters and Banzos were outbowled, they never stopped trying and worked hard, right to the finish.

showed true champion class and their final three games of 1265-1254-1169 which brought their six game total up to 8139, easily took care to the Greesy Spoons' 7937, the Hearpins 7419 and the Stupenagels 7303, so it's congratulations to the champion Goon Squad of Janet Storey, Heather Wilkinson, Maria Pataky, Brent McEachern, Michael Stuadt, Jaye Christie and Karen Cole. In the consolation, the Nameless Ones and the Javelins had a closer battle. To start off the last three games the previous three big win for Javelins, when paced by Christine Hiscocks' 279 game, they posted a hard in the last game and although they nosed out a win 987 to the Javelins 961 the final result was Javelins 5037, Nameless Ones 5801. Getting the individual high triples and singles for the day's bowling were Ronnie Moore 678, Christine Hiscock 279, Ron Turkosz 217, Ted Muchibacker 211, Larry Knight 215-224, Guy Payne 200, Carl Reed 205, Heather Wilkinson 221, Maria Pataky 236 and Jaye Christie

Well, that winds up our Y. D. C. champions by five pins, 6393 to the Alloy Busters 6388 and it was a wild whooping bunch of Ding-A-Lings who mobbed and pounded Tins in joyful way it goes. We thank our coaches, bowling for this season, we've had a jubilation. Full credit can be given to Supervisor Sylvia Mages and her essistant, Joan Knight and all our other helpers for putting up with us and last but not least, don't forget the banquet dates, bantams, June 1, juniors June 8, and the seniors June 15, so have a good summer and we hope to see you all again when the lowling season starts again.

To grow cucumbers in February, you need a green thumb and a hard nose.

The Colasanti family have themselves a nice greenhouse business near Learnington.

Three and a half acres under glass and a steady crop of cucumbers and tomatoes. Plus bananas and grapefruit and cactus on the side.

After 30 years of hard work, it's a good business. And it's all theirs. But they need a hard nose for expenses.

Because when you're in business for yourself, what you don't pay out, you can keep.

So Alex and Joe and Ron Colasanti use natural gas for heating their greenhouses.

They know it saves them money. There's less maintenance. And burning natural gas even helps the vegetables grow.

Natural gas...it makes good dollars and sense.

The Colasantis are shrewd family men too: each of them has natural gas for heating and for hot water heating at home.

Judge class of Jerseys

By Jane Nixon The All Breeds 4-H Dairy Call Club meeting was held at Rock Ella Jersey Farm, Hornby on May 1. The president, Ken McNabb, opened the meeting with the 4-H Pledge. Ken Ella described the judging points of a Jersey cow to all of the members. The members had two classes to judge, a three-year-old, a fouryear-old, with reasons following.

Both seniors and juniors had a lesson. Bruce McKeown thanked the Ella family for the use of their farm and the refreshments.
