Deborah (Debbie) Ann Bould and Michael (Mike) Wesley Marchment were married in St. George's Anglican church, Kirk chapel, Guelph, on Friday evening, May 18.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bould, R.H.2, Guelph, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Marchment, Acton.

Archdeacon Mitchell officiated for the candlelight ceremony and daisies decorated the chapel. Dereck Healey played the organ.

Made own gowns
The bride wore a white dotted Swiss gown, her floppy-brimmed hat trimmed with daisies. She carried a single daisy with a mint green streamer.

Maid of honor was her sister Brenda in a floral gown of yellow, tangerine and green and green floppy hat trimmed with daisies. She also carried a single daisy.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, Jim Stevenson of Hamilton was groomsmen and usher was Rick Bould, brother of the bride.

The bride and her sister made their own dresses and the bride's grandmother made the cake which was decorated by family friend Helen Lamb.

Reception at home
The reception followed at the bride's parents' home. The bride's mother wore mint green with daisies, and the groom's mother brown and gold with a gardenia.

Leaving on the honeymoon the bride wore a pink mini-dress with white accessories.

Guests attended from Eden Mills, Acton, Hamilton, Alma, Drayton, Guelph and Kitchener. Among them was Mrs. Jessie Kentner, grandmother of the groom.

The bride was honored at several showers.

Bell - Coles wedding vows

Pink and white gladioli formed the setting in St. Marys Presbyterian Church, on May 12 for the marriage of Valerie Joyce Coles and Roger Don Bell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Coles, St. Marys, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, Port Elgin. Rev. Stuart Coles, uncle of the bride, and Dr. A. F. Howick officiated.

The bride wore a full length old-fashioned type white crepe dress with pink lace and white picture hat trimmed with pink chiffon and white satin ribbon. Her flowers, pink and white roses, baby's breath, blue cornflower were fashioned in a nosegay edged in lace.

Attendants
Miss Connie Coles, Acton, cousin of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a full length pink and white gingham dress, with ruffles and white rick rack. Her white picture hat was trimmed with pink and white gingham and rick rack. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathie Smith, St. Marys, and Miss Wendy MacKay, Guelph. Their gowns were similar to the maid of honor, and they all carried nosegays of pink roses, baby's breath and blue cornflower with pink ribbons.

The bride made all the attendants' gowns and her own gown.

Ken Dunlop of Port Elgin was best man, and ushers were Murray Hackett, Teeswater, and Jim Bell, brother of the groom, Port Elgin. The groom wore a pale blue brocaded Edwardian jacket and black slacks. Best man and ushers wore navy Edwardian style tuxedos. E. A. Hansen, uncle of the bride, played the wedding music.

Reception
Dinner was served in the church hall, and later a dance was held at St. Marys Golf Club. Mrs. Coles wore deep pink chiffon over taffeta with grey accessories with pink Cymbidium orchid. The groom's mother wore a full length dress, navy bodice, pink printed skirt with matching accessories, and pink tipped white carnations.

For the honeymoon in Montreal and Quebec City the bride changed to a blue knit suit. The young couple will reside at Port Elgin. Guests were present at the wedding from Toronto, London, Acton, St. Marys, Port Elgin, Hamilton, Cambridge, Brantford, Kitchener, St. Thomas, Kincardine, Ottawa, Guelph, Sauble Beach, Exeter and Dearborn Heights, Mich.

The bride and groom graduated from University of Western Ontario with their B. A.'s in French and English respectively, on Wednesday, June 6.

OF INTEREST in Acton was the wedding in St. Marys of Valerie Coles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coles, and Roger Bell. The family lived here before moving to St. Marys.

Ebenezer Young People's service

By Mrs. Ron McLean

In the absence of Mr. Finley at Conference, the young people's group took charge of the service. Those taking part included Julie Cragg, Julie Truscott, Marilyn Filton, Sandra Early, Sandra Ashton, Jocelyn MacMillan, Bill Cunningham, Darlene, Ken and Ross Hewer, Jim Ferrier, Paula Kitching and Vickie Polo.

Steve Woods, the leader, gave the address on God's Word. When Jesus was tempted, he used God's word to refute the devil. Satan tried to do the same, wrongly.

Mr. Woods called on Reg Brown, of Richmond Hill to say a few words on what inspiration he had got from studying the scripture by himself.

Everyone has a basic knowledge of God. If we don't do something about our faith, we lose what we have.

First appearance
Kimberley Clegg made her first appearance at church. Mr. and Mrs. H. Blyth attended the United Church conference at Sudbury.

Grey skies

Fair weather has always graced Decoration Day until this year, when grey, damp skies predominated. However the rain kept off till the program was over. This is the 19th annual service and perfect weather had almost become a tradition.

Sold right out

The new supply of bike licenses had not arrived at the police office Tuesday, but were expected any day now. The first order has all been sold.

Patey - Kacor ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Norm Patey were married in Trinity United church on May 19. She is the former Maureen (Gordon Campbell studio)

Maureen Kacor and Norm Patey were married at Trinity United church Saturday afternoon, May 19 and the reception followed at Acton Meadows golf course.

The bride's attendants were Brenda McClure, a friend; Mrs. Linda Patey, sister-in-law of the groom and Heather Stafford, cousin of the bride. Best man was the groom's brother Clarence Patey and ushers were Harold Patey, brother of the groom and Paul Kacor, brother of the bride.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Toronto and are living on Longfield Rd.

With the town growing and many newcomers, it's impossible for the Free Press to hear about all the news of interest. Please phone items for this column, to help keep it interesting and newsy for all our readers.

CJOY tour for group

The Daughters of Knox held their June meeting as a social one.

Fourteen members and guests left the church and travelled by cars to the new broadcasting station of CJOY Guelph on Speedvale Ave.

They were taken on a conducted tour of the modern offices, broadcasting rooms and the executives' offices by Bill Dawkins of Acton who is the general sales manager of CJOY. It was very interesting how he explained the preparation of news, records and tapes for the programs. They also viewed the completely automatic F.M. studio in operation. Later all enjoyed Chinese food and a social time.

Friends are glad that Mr. Earle Marshall is home from hospital again.

Roland McCulloch, youngest son of Mr. & Mrs. James McCulloch, has returned home after wintering in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Elliott, with her sister Mrs. Dwight Haven of Comber, enjoyed the spring tulip festival at Ottawa and visited relatives there.

Engineering graduates of the School of Practical Science at the University of Toronto of 1923 celebrated their 50th anniversary at special events for four days last week. Two of the members of the class have Acton connections. Roy Brown of Toronto lived here at the time. One of his classmates, F. J. (Pat) Lyle, worked at Beardmore for five years after graduation, living with his wife at Hannah Wallace's, on Knox Ave. and later building the house on Church St. where Hugh and Marion Patterson and family are now. Another former Actonian there was Mrs. Jean (Kennedy) Russell of Unionville whose late husband was a member of the class.

Acton Women's Institute organized a bus trip to Toronto Monday which was enjoyed by participants. A factory tour and shopping at a plaza were highlights.

The Harry Hibbs dance at the community centre Saturday night drew a large crowd estimated at about 800. The event was considered a huge success and the booth "ran out of everything."

Mayor Les Duby reports he was very impressed by the first municipal-provincial federal meeting he attended at Trent University, Peterborough, representing Ontario municipalities. "Marvellous" is how he describes some of the sessions.

After a month's visit, Mrs. G. Shacklock is returning Saturday to her home at Tunbridge Wells, Kent, England. She has been staying here with her niece Mrs. W. Onions and Dr. Onions. Also with them on the weekend was Mrs. Onions' brother from Winnipeg, Mr. James Allen Carmell.
