Stamp out the returned quarter

Dear Sir:

Wouldn't it be nice, if when a postage stamp is needed at an inopportune time, that you could put your quarter in the stamp vending machine at the post office and for once have a book of stamps

released, rather than having your quarter

It happened to me on Wednesday, June 19, Tuesday, June 25 and Thursday, June 28-alas, no stamps. Terrific service, I say, does not differ in method of operation from other provincial Home Care Programs. A patient is referred to the program on the recommendation of his attending physician. If the patient is in hospital, the physician works in conjunction with the head nurse and the hospital's discharge planning officer. The application, with a medical assessment is sent to the program administrator and if the patient meets the necessary criteria as outlined by the Ministry, the patient receives home care immediately upon discharge. For patients not in hospital, attending physicians work directly with the program administrator.

The criteria for admission to home care, applicable to all programs are:

1. The patient must be under the medical supervision of an attending physician.

2. The patient's medical condition must be such that he can (with the co-operation of his family) be treated adequately at home with the services available through the Home Care Program.

3. The patient's needs cannot be met on an out-patient basis. 4. The patient must be in need of at least one or more of the professional services provided by the program, such as nursing, physiotherapy, speech therapy thomemaking services do not qualify in the category of a professional service).

5. The patient must reside in the area served by the program. 6. The patient may receive a maximum benefit of 80 hours of the services of a homemaker. 7. The patient must have OHIP

With the Ministry of Health responsible for the administration and development of home care programs throughout the province, and setting program objectives, some 30 local administrative agencies have been designated for the conduct of local programs, making a full range of bome care services available to approximately 94 per cent of the province's population. In 1971, approximately 14,500 patients were admitted to the 28 programs then functioning. In the 15 programs that had operated a full year during 1971, average length of stay was 31 days per patient.
