Syd Savage named Nassagaweya clerk

Syd W. Savage has been named clerk of Nassagaweya Township, effective this Friday July 20, following the resignation of clerk Earl Cuddie.

Mr. Savage has served as zoning administrator, secretary to the planning board and committee of adjustment and has worked for the township for the past six years. On two occasions, when former clerks resigned, he also served as interim clerk until the vacancy was filled.

Mrs. Vera Cockram, who was deputy treasurer under Mr. Cuddie, has been named treasurer.

Short term jobs

Both posts are only expected to last until the end of this year, when regional government comes in effect and the whole of Nassagaweya Township is joined with Milton in a Central Halton borough.

Earl Cuddie of Whitby came to Nassagaweya last November to be clerk-administrator of the township. He announced his resignation two weeks ago and it was formally accepted at township council's meeting Monday July 9. He is going to Lakeland, a village of 1,200 people, to be clerk-administrator.

Mr. Savage will also hold the posts of tax collector, zoning administrator, building and plumbing inspector. Terry Gallamore remains on staff as assistant zoning administrator, assistant building inspector and assistant plumbing inspector.

For most ratepayers

Taxes down

Most Nassagaweya Township ratepayers noticed a decrease in taxes when their 1973 tax bills arrived in the mail this week. Township council was able to reduce most of the mill rates when the budget was settled and mill rates struck. A 4.9 mill rate increase will be noticed by those separate school supporters in the north end whose education taxes are directed to Wellington County, and residential and farm taxpayers in the Campbellville village experience a .2 increase in their 1973 levies.

Otherwise all mill rates were down. They are as follows, with the decrease or increase shown in brackets:

Milton Fire Area—residential and farm for public and separate schools, 68.830 (-2.395); commercial 76.334 (-2.680).

Acton Fire Area—residential and farm supporting public schools 69.951 (-1.274); commercial 77.455 (-1.559). Residential and farm supporting Wellington separate school board 76.174 (+4.949).

The rate for Eden Mills village residential and farm is 75.889, a decrease of .075 mills. Campbellville residential and farm rate is 67.773 (up .206) and for commercial is 75.277 (down .079).

Taxes this year will raise $566,690.10. The following table shows the various mill rates and the amount of money raised for each:

County	Mill Rate	Amount Raised
Township, Commercial	8.389	66,911.00
Township, Res. & Farm	9.667	18,055.30
Township Roads	6.736	41,147.13
Eden Mills T.V.	11.037	82,002.10
Campbellville P.V.	19.612	3,100.07
Acton Fire Area	9.980	3,876.73
Milton Fire Area	2.637	2,074.56
Elem. School Pub. Res. & Farm	1.516	7,783.07
Elem. School Pub. Res. & Farm	25.631	47,831.03
Elem. School Sep. Res. & Farm	23.067	139,393.67
Halton County	23.067	1,418.04
Elem. School Sep. Res. & Farm	29.290	119.36
Wellington Co.	25.631	3.85
Elem. School Sep. Commercial	18.065	110,472.96
Second. Sch. Res. & Farm	20.094	37,501.23
Second. Sch. Comm.		566,690.10

Clerk-treasurer Earl Cuddie said it was hard to find an "average" taxpayer in Nassagaweya but a home assessed for $10,000 (which is a portion of market value) would realize a saving of about $24 on this year's taxes.

NEW OFFICIAL TITLES were bestowed on Mrs. Vera Cockram and Syd W. Savage by Nassagaweya Township Council this Friday. Mr. Savage will become township clerk this Friday while Mrs. Cockram was named treasurer, following the resignation of clerk-treasurer Earl Cuddie. Both have been township employees for several years.

Six students studying township land use plan

Four university students from Waterloo and two high school students from Nassagaweya are working this summer on an important survey designed to help planners chart the future of the township. The Nassagaweya Township Planning Base Study is a summer-long opportunity for Youth program but it is also an "opportunity" for the township planning board to gather a picture of the land use changes which have taken place in the township.

Funded by an OFY grant in the amount of $7,600, the students are calling on farms, households and commercial establishments throughout the township with a standard 13-part questionnaire plus a nine-part supplement to be filled in by farmers. Their answers are being tabulated at University of Waterloo and a final report will be issued this fall.

Chart development
The study is designed to

$1,599,000 in permits

To date in 1973, Nassagaweya Township building department has issued $1,599,000 worth of building permits. During June the township issued 16 permits, including 11 new homes and two new agricultural buildings, for a value of $408,000, assistant building inspector Terry Gallamore reports.

Three months
Students began working on the project May 22 and are to be finished by Aug. 24.

"We are really seeking data to be used in updating the official plan of the township." Mr. Buck said. "The planning board needs the data and wants a consensus of opinion from the residents."

Survey questions are expected to turn up answers on how many people live in each household, whether they rent or own, how long they have lived in the township, why new residents moved to Nassagaweya, where they work and shop, how many are engaged in part-time farming and the control of the land.

Residents are asked whether they want to retain the township's rural flavor with limited growth, or if they prefer "zero growth" or increased growth. Opinions are also sought on increased residential, recreational, and commercial, manufacturing and pits and quarries development.

Where to develop
One question asks if future development should be concentrated in the established village areas at Moffat, Brookville, Campbellville and Eden Mills, or scattered throughout the township.

The survey will also show what per cent of the farmers are engaged in the various types of agriculture—mixed, dairy, beef, horses, sheep, pigs, poultry, grain and other. Acres of land under cultivation, changes in farming activities, and reforestation acreages are also sought.

Buck says township residents have been very co-operative with the surveyors. The group is working from an office at the township hall, Brookville.
