

Robson - McGilloway wedding

Susan Marie McGilloway and James Henry Robson were married at 7 o'clock, August 3, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. J. J. Gillen in St. Joseph's church.

A dinner and dance followed at the Acton Music Centre and the couple took a wedding trip to Thousand Island, Gananoque and Ottawa. They are living in the Marie St. apartments here.

The bride is an R.N.A. at Georgetown hospital and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGilloway, 37 Victoria Ave., Acton. The groom, who is with Building Products, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robson of R.R. 1, Limehouse.

White and red
Tall white baskets of white glads, white shasta daisies and red carnations decorated the altar and Mrs. Lill Bradshaw played the organ. Lace trim and floral appliques decorated the bride's silk crepe gown. She wore her headdress of lace and pearls and four-tier tulle veil edged in lace.

She carried a trailing cascade of red roses and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants wore long crepe gowns in different shades.

Different colors
Maid of honor was Linda Oprica, Georgetown, a nursing classmate, who wore medium green. Bridesmaids were Beverly Norton, Acton, a school friend, who wore pink; Gail McClure, Acton, a sports team mate, who wore blue; and the bride's three sisters, Teresa in gold, Colleen in mauve and Cindy in light green.

They carried colonial cascades of white shasta daisies and wore daisies in their hair which matched the lace daisy trim on their gowns.

Matching dickets
The bride was escorted by her father.

The best man and usher wore white jackets, black pants and ties, with dickets matching the bridesmaids' dresses. Wayne DeForest was groomsmen and the ushers were brothers Dan McGilloway and Bill McGilloway, friends Hugh O'Rourke Jr. and Gary McEachern.

Dinner was served to the guests at the music centre, with Tom and Rena Watson having the reception as their last catering job before retiring from business. More friends came later for dancing.

The wedding cake was ordered through Acton Delicatessen where the bride's mother works.

Mothers receive guests
Welcoming guests, Mrs. McGilloway wore brown chiffon with gold accessories, yellow roses and gold ribbon. The groom's mother wore coral crepe with white lace, white accessories and white roses with white ribbon.

Guests attended from Acton, Guelph, Georgetown, Milton, Orangeville, Molton, Toronto, Brampton, Waterdown and Fergus.

Leaving the bride wore a halter top dress in black and white poka dots with white gardenia corsage. They are living in the Marie St. Apartments.

Showers for bride before the wedding Mrs. Ted Pope, Meadvale Rd. held a buffet lunch and miscellaneous shower with Georgetown hospital nurses attending.

Beverly Norton, Guelph St., had school friends for a miscellaneous shower. Mrs. Phyllis Patrick, Brock St., held a shower for neighbors with friends from Fergus and relatives from Alton as well.

The bride's aunt Mrs. Janice Withers arranged a surprise shower for aunts, uncles, grandparents and all the children with a picnic and swim party at the bride's home. Susan arrived home from work to discover the party underway.

Arch of sticks greets newlyweds

Red and white glads with ferns decorated the church of St. Alban for the marriage of Maureen Downey and Thomas Ruddy Holmes. The Rev. Harry Dawson officiated on Saturday afternoon, August 25 and Mrs. Frank Oakes played the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Downey, R.R. 3, Milton, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes, 64 Church St., Acton. He is a salesman with Triad-Triumph Ltd., Rexdale.

The groom is assistant coach of the Acton Y's Men's Ice Hockey team, and the boys appeared at the church in uniform to surprise him with an arch of hockey sticks after the ceremony.

Wedding party
The bride wore a simple white gown with high neck and long sleeves, trimmed with lace. A headdress of white daisies held her shoulder-length veil. She carried white and yellow daisies and red roses.

Her attendants were matron of honor Barbara Downey, her sister-in-law; bridesmaids Linda Richards, her sister, Irene DeVries, a friend, and Shatuna McCoy, a friend. They wore blue and white silk pant suits with daisies in their hair and carried white daisies with red ribbon.

George Downey escorted his daughter. Glenn Holmes was groomsmen for his brother and the ushers were brother Jack Holmes, Allan Hall and Bill Cook.

Reception
Georgetown Golf and Country club was the location of the reception.

The guests included the bride's grandfather Wallton Downey, Bolton, age 91, who gave a fitting speech to the couple; and the bride's grandmother Mrs. Hazel MacDonald, Orangeville, who had sewn her own beautiful dress.

Others from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. C. Humes, North Bay; Mr. and Mrs. J. Logan and family, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. F. O'Reilly, Waubesa, and Mrs. W. Watson, Grand Valley.

The bride's mother wore brown and white with small daisies in her hair, and the groom's mother peach color with yellow and white corsage.

Trip to Nassau
The bride left the reception wearing a black pantsuit dotted with small red and orange flowers, and a corsage of baby red roses. The couple took a wedding trip to Nassau. They are living at 28 Cobblehill Rd., Acton.

There were several showers for the bride before the wedding, given by Barb Holmes on June 6, Irene DeVries June 15, Barb Downey, June 28, Susan McPhail, July 24, Louise Kendle, June 23, Anna Arnold and Monika Cook on August 10. There was a stag for the groom August 10.

Plan exhibits at local fairs

The September meeting of the Acton W.I. was held on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 5 in the board room of the library. The president, Miss Simmons welcomed all back after their summer holiday and opened the meeting with a poem Ten Commandments of Human Relations followed by Ade and Collect.

Plans were made for the needlecraft course in October.

Final arrangements were made for displays at Acton and Milton fall fairs. Tickets were given out to the members which are to be sold on double wedding ring quilt which is to be drawn in November.

Fair donation
A donation was to be made for a prize for the baby contest to be held at the fall fair.

Reports were given by the Agriculture and Canadian Industries convener Mrs. Lindsay and the Family and Consumer affairs Mrs. Lambert.

Mrs. Doris Cook, convener of Citizenship and World affairs, gave a very interesting paper entitled "Lift those glasses-high, you're living in a great country."

Roll call was responded to by 12 ladies each giving a current event.

Lunch was served by the committee in charge and a social half hour enjoyed.

Activity group will sell hand-knit articles at fair

On Monday, Sept. 10 the Acton Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society held a meeting at the home of Mary Papillon to finalize plans for the fall fair.

It has been decided, after the many requests of the general public over the past few years, to offer for sale some of the beautiful hand-knit articles made by the Activity Group. These articles are usually sent to the patients in hospital who appreciate them so very much. There is everything from warm men's toques to dainty bed jackets, socks and babies outfits. The proceeds from this sale will go towards the supplies for knitters who are willing volunteers. They would welcome the service of anyone who likes to knit to join their active group.

There will be a book on hand at the booth for anyone to offer their services by signing either as a driver to transport patients to treatment centres in Toronto, Guelph or Hamilton. These drivers are re-imburshed for their mileage and to be able to give someone a helping

75 enter contest

About 75 people have entered the Heritage Halton art and photography contest sponsored by Halton County Council. Entries will be on display at Halton County Museum Oct. 13 and Oct. 14. Winners will be judged at that time.

The contest is being held to help commemorate the end of Halton's county status and to mark the beginning of regional government.

hand is very rewarding experience. In terms of time, this would probably require a half day occasionally.

They will have a miniature display of the cobalt bomb which is used for treatment in the booth this year, along with some interesting literature. This is a good opportunity to ask volunteers any questions, members feel.
