Notes from Acton High

By Janice Gibson
Once again Acton High School has opened its doors to welcome its students. Classes started a day later than usual this year. Teachers reported to work on Tuesday, as normal, to prepare for a full day the following morning.

Several changes took place during the summer. Many of the old lockers have been brightened up with new paint in red, yellow, and orange.

In the office, Mr. Downie and Mr. Katz have finally had proper partitions put in to section off their offices.

In these days of rising prices, it is not surprising that our cafeteria rates should increase, but you can still get quite a good meal at a reasonable cost.

For many of the new students the size of our school store may have come as a surprise. The closet is very well stocked now with all the supplies a person could require.

We are now beginning our third year on the semestered program. It has proved very successful in the past and we hope will continue to do so in the future.

Judge owes

By Paul Stewart
The final meeting of the Halton 4-H Livestock Judging Club was held at Henry Stanley's farm. A type demonstration on sheep was given by Mr. Stanley and Mac Armstrong. We judged a class of ewes for breeding and a class of market lambs. Reasons were said into a tape recorder and were played back to us so we could hear our mistakes.

The official placings were given by Henry Stanley and Mac Armstrong.

To begin series

The high school column begins again this week, again written by Janice Gibson. The column will be featured on the Youth Page. A series of interviews with the new teachers on the high school staff will begin soon.

Childhood Education for the Mentally Retarded.

The courses are offered by Humber College in conjunction with the Ontario Association for the Mentally Retarded, National Institute on Mental Retardation and the Day Nurseries Branch of the Department of Social and Community Services.

There were at least three hotels in Campbellville before the days of prohibition.
