Happenings at Rockwood School

By Judy Finley
On Wednesday there is Professional Development Day. We won't be going to school. Some teachers will be working on outdoor education programs at Eden Mills. Others will be working at the Rockwood school.

This Thursday the girls and boys soccer will start. There are about eight tennis this year. The lockers are up and will be in use soon for the intermediate students. On Monday the kindergartens moved into their new room.

Present farewell gift at dance in town hall

The old town hall in Rockwood was rocking last Saturday night when over 130 ladies and gents packed into the hall to enjoy the rollicking music of the Shaynes of Acton.

Door prizes, lucky draw, sing songs, and hilarity were all part of a smash evening when the supporters of the Brownies, Cubs and Guides gathered for their annual get together.

The dance was organized by the First Rockwood group committee as ladies Leslie Ferguson, Audrey Bilton, Audrey Hudson, Julie Thatcher and President Ena Petty provided a delicious repast for after-midnight snacking.

Farewell gift
Helen Hill was the lucky winner of the door prize, Fred Nightingale and Mike Martin captured the lucky draws. Highlight of the occasion was the presentation of a lucky charm bracelet by Cub Master and Master of Ceremonies Vic Johnson. Vic made the presentation and congratulated past president Leslie Ferguson for her great and successful efforts in getting the first Rockwood Group Committee on the road. The charm on the bracelet was engraved "To Leslie from the Cubs, Brownies, Guides and Scouts" and only slightly denoted the esteem with which Leslie has been thought

Pot luck begins

During the past few years offspring religious groups have been started up usually composed of women who are interested in discussing and learning firsthand more about the rudiments of Christianity and studying together its philosophy. Such a group started up in Rockwood approximately two years ago, meeting as a coffee hour get together with discussion relating everyday living to Christianity. Viewpoints, attitudes, and intensity of belief were all laid on the line with those gathering trying out their problems on each other in their attempt to delve more deeply and, in doing so, becoming more sound in their own beliefs.

The original group which started up with only four people involved gradually grew in numbers. Ladies in the district were invited to larger gatherings where guest speakers were invited to speak and, many who attended wanted to also join the group and, themselves, get involved.

Pot luck
On Thursday last, the ladies met after a summertime layoff at the home of Jean McNabb R.R. Rockwood. Pot luck was the name of the game as all attending took their own culinary favorites which comprised delicious banquet food consumed after a lively discussion.

Present at the Thursday meeting were Helen Sinclair and Ruth McPhee of Guelph, Meg Norris of Stratford, Marjory Saunders, Lillian of in the Village.

The Dan Fergusons are leaving on Saturday morning for Leslie's native country Australia and it was the committee's way of saying "farewell".

Also assisting at the dance were Millie Bolton and her special committee and Diane Wallace selling tickets at the door.

Surprise

Eden Mills seniors surprised Rockwood Red Sox 5-0 in the first game of a best of five series for the traditional Dave Gray Eramosa Cup in Rockwood Sunday night. Second game of the series will be played in Eden Mills tomorrow (Thursday) night. Jim Barden hurled a two hit shutout and fanned 12 to gain the win for Eden Mills. Bob Shaw and John Salmon combined to strike out 13 Eden Mills batters.

Glen Stevenson with a single and a home run and George Campbell with a single and a triple were game's hitting stars. Charlie Evans, Bert Logan and Gary Barden each singled twice for Eden Mills.

Vic Wilms doubled and Harry Phillips singled for the only two Rockwood hits.

SUNDAY MORNING and, through the streets of Rockwood went the four Dales boys, sons of Mat and Ev Dales of R.R. Rockwood. Chris is riding Shady, Greg on Cassie, Tim with Snoopy, and John on Bassette. Hidden is Paul Holman riding Dusty. The boys were getting in shape for next Saturday's 60 mile competitive Trail ride at Newmarket. (Photo by Lorraine)
