

Scottish traditions Cornell - Meek vows

Rockwood United Church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and chrysanthemums for a fall wedding on September 22, at 3 p.m. Rev. Peter D. Tucker, Dundas, former minister of Rockwood United Church, united in marriage Margaret Judy the Anne Meek, Cambridge (Galt) and Roy Thomas Cornell, Chatham.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Meek, Rockwood, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Cornell, Chatham.

Mrs. Gordon Altken, Ospringe, was organist and soloist. Mrs. Norman Harcourt, Oakville, sang the Wedding Prayer and the Lord's Prayer. Honoring the Scottish heritage of the bride and groom, Alexander Horne, Wellesley, piped the happy couple out of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white Lagoda trimmed with French lace. Her veil was a four tiered scalloped illusion joined with a daisy headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of red sweetheart roses and scotch heather. She wore her maternal grandmother's pearl ring.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Paul Waddell, Guelph, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Leitheald, Montreal, friend of the bride; Miss Nancy Meek, Cambridge (Galt), sister of the bride; and Mrs. Charles Rutler, Chatham, sister of the groom. Flower girl was the bride's niece, Miss Lynne Meek, West Montrose.

They wore long, green, wool skirts, white blouses and Farguharson tartan vest. The Farguharson tartan is the family tartan of the bride's maternal grandparents. They carried wicker baskets of straw flowers intertwined with Scotch heather and ivy.

Best man was Robert Yamaji, Toronto, friend of the groom. Ushering were the bride's brothers, Jamie Meek, West Montrose, Robert Meek, Rockwood, and the groom's brother Herbert Trudgen, Chatham.

Ringbearer was Douglas Wilson, Acton, cousin of the groom. He was attired in the full Scottish regalia of the McKay tartan which is the family tartan of the groom's maternal grandparents.

Reception

The wedding reception was held at Eleanor's Restaurant, Guelph. The wedding cake made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Wm. MacDonald, R.R. 2, Guelph was unique in that it was a replica of Rockwood United Church.

The bride's mother received wearing a street length ensemble of shantung in a Nile green shade. Her corsage was a lavender cattleya orchid.

The groom's mother assisted wearing a polyester knit street length ensemble in deep pink shade. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

Guests

Honored guests were the bride's acting grandmother, Mrs. Mary Scott, Guelph and the groom's grandmother.

Mrs. Mabel Sutton, Morpeth. Guests attended from Cambridge (Galt), Chatham, Brantford, Fort Erie, Georgetown, Hamilton, London, Markham, Montreal, Morpeth, Ottawa, Peterborough, Oakville, Toronto, Wellesley, West Montrose, Windsor, Woodstock and surrounding areas.

Following a wedding trip to the Maritime provinces, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell will reside at 9 Buckingham Avenue, Chatham.

Gifts

Prior to her recent marriage, Mrs. Cornell, was honored at several showers and presentations. Four presentations were made at the bride's school, St. Andrew's Senior Public School, Cambridge (Galt), by the staff, student council, class 71 and class 74. Showers were given by Mrs. Paul Waddell, Guelph; Mrs. David Long, Cambridge (Galt); Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hansen, Georgetown; Mrs. Charles Butler, Chatham; Mrs. Ray Thomson, Rockwood; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wantless, Agincourt.

The groom was presented with gifts from his fellow employees at Union Gas Limited, Chatham. He also received a gift of money at a stag given in his honor in Chatham.

MR. AND MRS. Ray Thomas Cornell are living in Chatham. She is the former Margaret Judythe Anne Meek, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Meek, Rockwood. (Adams Photography, Georgetown)

Story hour

There were 26 young children enjoying the story hour at the library last Wednesday afternoon. The sessions are held every week and are very popular with the children.

Mills - Darby vows Oct. 5

Dorrie Darby and Don Mills were married Friday evening, October 5, in a quiet ceremony in their new home, 180 Churchill Rd. Rev. D. Phillips officiated.

Mrs. Helen Honsinger, Brumpton, and Neville Palmer, Georgetown, were attendants.

Before the wedding, a linen shower was given by Mrs. Telford Reidt and a miscellaneous shower for neighbors by Mrs. D. Dillis.

250 volunteers

"With the increase in the quantity or years of survival, it is our major objective to improve the quality of survival," Dr. Henrietta Banting told Canadian Cancer Society volunteers recently. Dr. Banting, chairman of the national committee for Service to Patients, was a key speaker at the Ontario Division Service to Patients Conference held in Toronto October 10 and 11. The conference attracted about 250 volunteer workers representing the Society's 14 Districts and 104 Units across the province.

Attending the two-day conference from Acton were Mrs. Cathy McGillivray, Service to Patients Chairman and Mrs. Susan Sale, secretary of the Cancer Society's Georgetown Unit.

The training seminar offered these volunteers information about organization of local committees, and presented details about a number of the volunteer services of the Society.
