IN LOVING MEMORY of my dear friend Lorna Norrie and Rhoda Crispin who passed away December 27, 1972 and February 4, 1972. My girlfriends' houses were wonderful places. Seasoned and warm, like their lovely young faces. Blessed by their laughter and mellowed by tears. Rich with the memory of long ago years. When trouble beset me and life laid me low, Lorna's and Rhoda's was the place I would go. Ready to listen and glad to impart all the wisdom and love in their hearts. I don't go to their places anymore for there is no one to answer my knock at the door and yet I feel certain God knew their worth. And that's why he took them away from this earth. He needed somebody with wisdom and love. To counsel the angels in heaven above. Sadly missed and always remembered by your loving friend, Patsy. 7a26-4764

Festival of lessons, carols

Based on ancient precedent, a festival of nine lessons and carols was presented Christmas Eve at the United Church. The service is held annually with the collection customarily going to the choir for help in their work in the church.

Dr. George Elliott played the organ and directed the choir as the service proceeded without announcements. The church was impressively decorated with lighted trees and poinsettias with banks of candles on the chancel and down the aisle.

Dills of the Sunday School staff, Joyce Ribey, the C.G.I.T. leader, G.W. McKenzie, an elder, and the minister Dr. W.G. Onions. Carols, beautifully sung, included a wide variety—Lo How a Rose e'er Blooming, The Snow Lay on the Ground, As I Walked in Bethlehem, Sleep Little Tiny King, Carol of the Bells, I am so Glad each Christmas Eve, Peace on the Earth, and well-known favorites in which the congregation joined.

This service was at 8 p.m. and at 11.30 the candles were lit again for a service of carols and communion.

Nine lessons, representing various church organizations, were Barry Buchanan of the choir, Elaine Diggie of the Activity Group, Dave Sale of the couples' club, Rae Lidkea of the U.C.W., Ken Allen, teen group leader; Kathy

Home for Christmas were Miss Joanne Landsborough and Miss Donna Brown of Granvetherst; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Landsborough, Christopher, Paul, and Scott of Newmarket; Maj. and Mrs. Mac Sincilar, Gina and Ian of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Park, Cathy, Steven, Kenny, and Paul-Jo of Etobicoke; Mr. and Mrs. David Sver, Angela and Stephanie of Sarria.
