Lifelong Erin resident dies

The community was shocked to hear of the sudden passing of Arnold Stewart Bessey on Dec. 8. Born on Aug. 24, 1910, he was a son of the late Leonard Bessey and Ellen Gray.

A lifelong resident of Erin Township he farmed on the third line and was employed at the Wellington County Board of Education, Guelph.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, the former Marjory McArthur, two daughters Lorna (Mrs. Jack Marshall) of Acton, Sharon (Mrs. Allan G.

Smith) Georgetown, one son Brian of Guelph, and five grandchildren.

He was also survived by two brothers Bill and Yeuart of Guelph, and was predeceased by brothers Alex and Wes. Funeral services were held from the Rumley-Shoemaker funeral home in Acton on Tues., Dec. 11 with interment at Coningsby Cemetery.

Acting as pallbearers were Jim McKivior, Lyle Dickson, Wayne Moore, Joe McDonald, Arnold Watson

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wright, Mr. Bob and Miss Joanne Wright, Eden Mills and Mr. Jim Franko, Toronto; Mrs. Jean Wilson, Guelph, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawson and baby Peter of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lawson Cathy, David and Harry Jr. of Acton and Mrs. Woods of Guelph and Mr. and Mrs. G. Ockenden, Little Jason and Julie of Acton were at the Lino Marzo's Christmas Day.

Christmas visitors with the James O'Rourke family was their music teacher Mrs. J.E. Lamb from Guelph and their daughter Dorothy Anne from Brampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gibbons and Michelle of Toronto and Mr. Peter Gibbons of Vancouver B.C. were home for Christmas.

After six months in Brazil, Jack Mainprize returned to his home in Montreal just before Christmas. With wife Anne, daughters Susan and Janet and son David, they had a late Christmas celebration here with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mainprize and Bill; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Egan and family of Guelph. Jack was installing turbines at two dam sites, one inland in the north of Brazil and the other in the far south. He found himself the only English-speaking person at the plants and learned Portuguese quickly. He has many interesting stories of life there.

Staff Sgt. Jim and Maureen Frank & family of Glen Williams visited with the Lino Marzo's over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Trysennaar (Kathy McKenzie) of Listowel were back with their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Currie and baby son from Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Currie and family from Elmira were home with Mr. and Mrs. Gord Currie and other relatives.

Rognvaldsos gathered Boxing Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gord Rognvaldsos; Rev. and Mrs. Harold Bailey, Toronto; Glenn Bailey, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Simpson and family, Kitchener; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Rognvaldsos, Cambridge; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taiton and family of Acton who'd just returned from Elliott Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Rob Taylor and daughter of Elliott Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rognvaldsos of Acton.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Taylor (Janet Rognvaldsos) and two-year-old Michelle were with Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Rognvaldsos and on Christmas Day they phoned to Dakar, Senegal, to talk with Nansi (Rognvaldsos) and her husband Gerard Coquard. Nansi told them the good news that their gifts, mailed in September, had arrived the Saturday before Christmas. Baby Catherine is a little too young yet to really enjoy the hot-weather holidays of Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnston spent the 25th with Mr. and Mrs. James Sayers, R.R. 4, and the 29th at a family gathering at Dixie of the Johnston side of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sayers had Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bruce, Mrs. H. Sayers of Ospringe, Mr. Garnet Bruce, Oakville; Miss Shirley Sayers, Kitchener; Mr. Les Wilson, Rockwood and Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnston Christmas Day.
