R.L. electives mix all ages

To brighten up the dark days of winter, and provide opportunities to explore new avenues of interest, Acton public schools have introduced a special activity program. Everything from leathercraft to international gourmet cooking for boys is offered to students from kindergarten to grade eight.

The Robert Little school has just completed the first successful four-week session and has gone into the second with equal enthusiasm.

The elective program, co-ordinated and supervised by the teachers and volunteer parents, runs from 2:45 to 3:45 every Wednesday. The classes are open to mixed age groups so that the students learn to identify with a multi-age group.

HUNGRY ONLOOKERS watch Joey Pupo fry a Hungarian pancake during international gourmet cooking class for boys.

Propose pay increase for commissioners

Hydro commissioners last Wednesday recommended a pay increase from $15 to $25 per meeting for commissioners and from $17 to $30 for the chairman, for 12 meetings a year. The recommendation will go to Halton Hills council.

Commissioners mentioned they still receive less than Georgetown hydro commissioners, who get $30 a meeting.

The first half of the meeting was taken up with preparations for upcoming discussions with union members.

Doug Mason and Bob MacArthur were authorized to attend the meetings of the OMEA and AMEU in Toronto March 4, 5 and 6.

A proposed budget for 1974 of $186,414 was approved. It includes the cost of wiring, subdivision work, transformers, meters, water heater installations, tools and equipment and a new bucket truck. Some of the expenses are recoverable.

Three new speakers for the trucks are to be installed. These will sound to call the workmen to the two-way radio when they are working outside.

A demonstration bucket truck will be coming to town

the end of March.

Members had inquired about non-owned auto insurance, following Les Duby's car accident which was not covered by town insurance. They learned this coverage doesn't protect employees, but protects the commission if it were named in a lawsuit. Insurance policies must be in the owner's name, they learned.

The price of hot water heaters will increase 8 per cent.

Air conditioning has been installed in the hydro offices and secretary Audrey Urquhart said the inspector had been there that day.
