Square dancing delights members

Greenock W.I.

by Mrs. Elsie Reed.

Attendance at the Golden Age club meeting on Wednesday evening was only fair. Sickness had taken a toll but fortunately several are showing improvement. Mrs. Joe Fuller is reported to be slowly recovering in Oakville, from a lengthy bout of pneumonia. Jack Creasey had undergone successful surgery in Guelph Hospital which was followed by X-rays and therapy. Jack Cossar had eye surgery in Brampton and is convalescing at home. Colds are prevalent.

Other lucky members are enjoying the sunny beaches and warmth of Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Elliott had a fine motor trip down, Mr. and Mrs. David Robertson went with a busload of senior citizens.

Drop-In Centre
Ivan Harris reported a fair attendance at the drop-in centre, but is hopeful it will increase when the weather gets warmer and walking conditions improved. Senior citizens about town realize it is available to all who are over 60 years.

Routine business was quickly completed. A trip to Ottawa in tulip time may be coming up if enough members are interested.

Mrs. Reed reminded that this is the 10th anniversary of the organization of the club and moved that something special should mark it. Mr.

Davidson agreed, and the motion was unanimously carried. So hopefully some good suggestion for the celebration will be coming up next meeting.

Entertainers George, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill DeVries arrived to delight with guitar music and vocal solos and duets.

Square dancing
A set of modern square dancers in matching costumes, with Stu Reed as "Callers", performed several "changes" as they do-si-doed to and fro, and swung their "pretty little girl" in her full skirt and crinolines. They received a tremendous applause and took a breather during a singing-song of old favorites, before returning for a finale of more "changes." Dancers were Nan Reed and Glen Helkno, Mary and Fred De Haan, Freda and John Buckman, Anna and Ken Stubbington, Mrs. Shoemaker, convener with Mrs. Finnimore and Mrs. Reed served a lunch of tea biscuits and jam and a variety of cookies.

Birthdays

Members with February birthdays include Mrs. Jack Hargrave, Mrs. Finnimore, Mr. & Mrs. Earl Lambert also absent. Mrs. Pearl Kennedy and Donald Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Buckman were saluted with "Happy Anniversary" greetings.

The visitors were given a hearty vote of thanks for helping provide a very enjoyable evening.

Storey presided in the absence of Mrs. J. McCulloch, and read a poem kindness. Roll call was an Australian peculiarity. Mrs. E. Johnston gave the meditation.

International
This was international night and country chosen this year was Australia. Mrs. G. Wallace passed around maps of Australia with each section marked. She gave interesting facts about sheep farming and how they will not export rams to other countries.

Mrs. J. Hache showed slides of Australia taken by her husband recently while on a business trip to that country.

Mrs. R. Sinclair showed souvenirs her aunt brought back from that country.
