

PAPER MACHE horses and elephants enchanted several Limehouse school children as they examined each piece thoroughly. Trying to learn the fundamentals are Randy Beard, Warren Somers, Rob Trueman and Stuart Carroll.

Long-time residents should demand rights

by Mrs. R. Shortill
The April U.C.W. meeting was held on Tuesday evening April 16, Mrs. George Black of the eighth line was the hostess. The president Eileen McEnery conducted the meeting. Mrs. Evelyn Snow, Secretary, reading the minutes. The roll call was answered by a Bible verse pertaining to family.

Several items of business were discussed: a bale of good used clothing for Street Haven, minor church repairs to be reported to the stewards; a banquet to be catered etc. The treasurer's report included a recent wedding statement, also financial returns from Niagara escarpment luncheon. Two forthcoming weddings to be planned etc. The devotion was taken by Gloria Johnson, different ones participating.

Parents here
Ruby Pinkerton was responsible for the topic. Her father and mother from London, England are spending a few weeks with the Pinkertons. Mr. Barker and Mrs. Barker are very active in their home place with old people. Mr. Barker very kindly and in his most interesting manner told us how love and kindness are what most old people need — a friend to listen to their troubles and share in their remaining years. We, who listened to him, could not help but feel how cheered an old person would be by visits and concern from Mr. and Mrs. Barker whose faces beamed with kindness and cheerfulness.

Recipes were exchanged and lunch was served by Joyce Clarke and Marj. Keller.

Communion
Sunday, April 21 was the sacrament of Communion. Several new homes are being started in the Ballinafad area. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reid are now living in their new home.

We are sorry Mr. and Mrs. Murray Eyre lost their trailer home by fire last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Kelvin Johnston called on friends one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shortill and two children of Cumberland (Ottawa) are visiting parents Fred and Willa Shortill.

Anniversary
Plans are being made for our anniversary next Sunday. Lunch time will be held downstairs after the service.

Baptism
Sunday, April 28, service was well attended. Visitors included Mrs. Linstead, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shortill and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barker and friend.

The sacrament of Holy Baptism was administered to baby Colin James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Pinkerton. A lovely bouquet of salmon pink roses graced the chance.

The sermon was based on treasure — the pearl of great price, the buried treasure etc., bringing out the thought, "Where your treasure is — there will your heart be".

What does it profit a man to gain the whole world, materially, yet lose his own soul.

The Junior choir sang accompanied by Mrs. Kerr. It was nice to see our organ back in its place.

M.P.P. right
We cannot help commenting on the words of the Hon. John Root in an article we read in a local paper. How very right he is and how well he sees the situation of older farmers are no longer able to work with remuneration on their farms and yet reluctant to leave their homes which they struggled so hard to pay for. Certainly they can sell their farms but would it be kinder for the "powers to be" to allow them to sell the old piece of land (their OWN land) to give them money to least keep their buildings in repair.

Are laws made for us who have pioneered here or are they made for a few chosen officials on a board, to whom we send a cheque for $50 and then appear before them like criminals for them to tell us we may or may not do so and so according to this and that and according to planning act so and so — an act of which we haven't a clue to its contents.

A few of us around here as long time residents should stop mummy-pampering around and ask, yep demand, our rights.

We say, John Root, we feel you are with us.

Robins are a-bobbin'

The robins are hobbin' these days and even daylight time changes haven't put them behind schedule. They are still the early birds who catch the worms.
