

GOLDEN WEDDING anniversary was celebrated last Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Massey. They live on Young St.

Mr., Mrs. Massey now 50 years married

Last Friday marked 50 years of happily married life for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Massey of Young Street in Acton.

Albert Massey was born in Bracebridge 69 years ago and came to Acton when he was 15 years old. Mrs. Massey was born in Scotland and came to Acton when she was 17 years old—now she's 71.

Met at town dance
The couple met at a town dance. Mrs. Massey said that Albert had taken a girlfriend of hers to the dance. At the end of the evening, though, he asked her for the last waltz and that marked the beginning of their life together.

Of course she didn't know that would be the case until about three weeks before the wedding. He simply said to her, "Get ready for the 10th of May, we're getting married!" And that was that!

Mr. Massey worked for the Beardmore Tannery for over 40 years. He also spent four and a half years in the service. Mrs. Massey is a housewife and as her husband will tell you, a good cook.

Great-grandparents
The Masseys have three children, Edith Givens from Georgetown, Evelyn MacNeil from Georgetown and Joe Massey from Acton. The Masseys are grandparents and great-grandparents.

Their 50th wedding anniversary has brought congratulations from all over, including the Governor-General of Canada, Robert Stanfield, Terry O'Connor, solicitor-general George A. Kerr and a special congratulatory plaque from Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

HEADPIN HILITES
A hilarious episode at the Acton Ladies league banquet was that of Linda Perkins doing her impressions of various bowlers in the league. The gal is a born mimic—elected to the Acton Ladies league executive for next season, are president Edna Meisac, vice-president Linda Perkins, secretary Lynda McDonald, assistant secretary May Hoare, treasurer Grace Robertson, assistant treasurer Agnes McIntyre. Congratulations ladies, and may you have another successful season—the Acton Mixed league wound up their season with a bang up at the Legion. Election of officers for next season took place and guiding the affairs of the league will be, president Arlie White, vice-president Dan Porty, secretary Laura Treble and treasurer Joan Porty. Congratulations are in order and may your term be a successful one. That winds it up once again, my friendlies, so adios, amigos and goodnite, Concord City.
