Former Beardmore man receives appointment

A local success story came to the fore recently when it was learned that a former Beardmore and Co. Ltd. employee was recently appointed as the Mexican Trade Commissioner to Canada.

According to officials at the company, Armando Gomez came to Acton approximately five years ago from his home country of Mexico. He had applied to Dave Goldberg, a hide dealer in Toronto, for employment and had been referred to Beardmore and Co. Ltd.

Qualifications
"When he came to work for us he seemed too well educated for manual labor," said a company spokesman who described Armando as a fine young man who made many friends in the town and had joined the Acton Lions Club. "Because of his qualifications his friends were continually advising him to return to Mexico," he said, "and he did."

Approximately a year ago company officials learned that Armando Gomez had been appointed Trade Commissioner in Texas. He was successful in his new field that, more recently, he was offered a tour in England. But the Mexican commissioner said that, because of his earlier association in Canada he would like to be affiliated with Canada instead. Today, that is the office he now holds, Mexican Trade Commissioner to Canada.

C. A. Conway, assistant general manager of the company with which Armando once was employed, says his friends here are delighted and, since the appointment, have had several visits from the new commissioner.

Let's talk about
HORSES
By Jennifer Barr

Here's a list of things found in my horse-loving son's bedroom lately:
Several horse pictures; small grubby donkey halter; nine plastic horses complete with large box of tack and various armless or legless riders; pile of horse post-cards; dirty tack bag; china horses; six crinkled show ribbons; beer bottle caps; broken ax handle; hamster; sleeping Persian cat.

I don't really know what this says to any one except that the horse disease shows up early in life. Parents beware! If any of these items are apparent in your child's bedroom (with the possible exception of the hamster and the cat), run and hide, you're in for a rough time. Even in our horse family, it is wearing and expensive to outfit two children with appropriate mounts and equipment. They're each on their second now: daughter Erica having acquired a new hunter pony prospect within the last month.

But the delight they receive when they learn to canter without falling off, or pick up the back hoof of a formidable mare is equaled only by my delight in constantly knowing WHERE THEY ARE.

Another quiet week for police

In the early hours of the morning on June 30, a local man was charged with possession of stolen property. Four drive-in theatre speakers from the Mustang Theatre in Guelph were found in his possession. He will appear in court in July.

Also in Acton this week were two liquor seizures, two drivers driving under suspension, one impaired driver and a report of broken windows at the Free Press. There were numerous minor complaints, anywhere from lost wallets to noisy parties, but nothing serious. All in all it was another quiet week, report Acton police.
