Sermon Mr. Finley's sermon was about David. Goliath was an historical fact. David was the image of a soldier, when just a boy. What a king he became! Matthew showed the Jewish people of his day that Jesus got his nobility and royalty from David. What a poet he was! David was chosen by God, and he chose God, but he was not perfect. No one questioned David's right as a king to have Uriah, the Hittite, put in a dangerous show their pleasure, they would like the club to accept gifts for the newly restored hall. The eldest member of the senior citizens group, Mrs. S. Gilbertson, had the honor of making the presentation of a hall clock. Mrs. W. McLean and Mrs. H. Gilbertson gave the club two crokinole boards for use in the senior citizens room in the community centre, once it is completed. President Bob Love thanked the ladies for their thoughtfulness. The W.I. met in Limehouse Memorial Hall on Thursday evening, president Mrs. G. Booth in the chair, opening by her reading, The Queen Walked Here, by Edna Jacques.

Roll call was answered by. A change I would like to see, bringing replies such as a change in social service arrangement to make people feel more independent, not meaning financially; that immigrants know more of the English language before leaving their home country, a uniform price for drug prescriptions and uniform dosage per tablet; the same retirement age for government officials as for the working man; that our roadsides be cleared of wrecks.

A motion was passed requesting the convener of resolutions to inform those responsible for such vehicles of our objection, and that further action would be taken if they were not removed.

Current events Mrs. Roughley read current events and items were read by conveners of standing committees.

Miss McKecher told them that people are becoming more aware of nutrition. The president of Guelph University spoke on stress. He said it is all about us, brought on by change. He said education is oversold.

Large group The W.I. is a large organization, with 30,775 members in Ontario alone, and 233 branches reported a 20 per cent membership increase in the past year.

Mrs. A. W. Benton commented on the motto, "today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday." She also provided lunch after the meeting.
