

Obituary

Archie Service

Former reeve and councillor of Nassagaweya, and a member of the Milton Area Fire Committee for 16 years, Archie Reid Service of 136 Town Line, Milton died July 8 at Milton District Hospital, following a brief illness. He was 70 years of age.

Mr. Service farmed in Nassagaweya most of his life, and was busy in several community organizations before and after he retired. He was one of the original members of Milton District Hospital Board, served as a director of Farmers Allied Meat Enterprises (F.A.M.E.), was active with United Co-Operatives of Ontario, a director of the Halton Federation of Agriculture representing Nassagaweya, and active in church work.

farm is now the Ontario Government's agricultural museum site, adjacent to Kelso. On his retirement he built a new home on the corner of the farm. His first wife Catherine Jean Crozier died and he remarried Violet MacMillan in 1966. Surviving are his wife Violet, daughters Marion Jean Service of Toronto and Catherine Ruth (Mrs. Ken Black) of Milton Heights, also a stepson Johnny MacMillan of Toronto. He is also survived by a brother Chester of Milton and six grandchildren. In his early life he attended the U.P. Church at Manawood, and later St. Paul's United Church in Milton. He was a member of the Milton Lawn Bowling Club and his hobby was carpentry. Funeral service was at the McKersie Funeral Home on July 10 with Rev. Rod Lewis of Boston Church officiating. Interment followed at Ever-

75% vote

Final figures for the July 4 election from Talton-Wentworth riding show a 75 per cent turnout in the tight battle between PC Bill Kempling and Liberal Eric Cunningham. Only 684 votes stood between Kempling who was returned as MP with 26,798 and Cunningham with 26,130. NDP candidates Walter Mulkevic received 8,677, and 150 ballots were rejected because of improper marking.

NEW HOMES abound in the Kingham Hills area and sight-seers find changes every day. The trees at the top right are on cemetery property which is now almost completely encircled by new houses.

Grant funds

Halton Helping Hands received a grant of $9,000 from Halton Regional Council Wednesday. Council reversed an earlier decision not to provide funds for that group. An executive of the group Anne Allison noted the group had reduced the scope of the program from the $120,000 program run last year on an I.P.P. grant. She explained the group provided physical services around a house for disabled and elderly people to assist the folk in staying in their homes instead of having to go to a home for the aged or another institution. The group receives assistance from various agencies and will be operating on a $40,000 budget next year. The group operates with paid workers, not volunteers. OPP begins program A crime prevention program to provide more personal contact between police and citizens is underway in Ontario. Under the leadership of Constable Larry Scott the Milton detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police will distribute crime prevention material on home, property and person. Initiated by Commissioner J. J. Graham of the O.P.P. the program is designed to intensify the force's efforts at preventing crime.
