

(Where work is fun)

AN EMERGENCY overhead line truck, or M6, as it is affectionately known to museum members, is fitted with railway wheels but can run on either electricity or gasoline.

WORKING ON THE RAILROAD, not just to pass the time away like in the song, but to keep it running, some of the museum members get out their overalls and the overhead line car and level the tracks.

A FRESH COAT of Rockingham Green paint brings a car made by an Ottawa manufacturer back to life. Mel Andrews of Toronto works on the outside of the passenger car that features stained-glass skylights inside.
