Trip
Mrs. Ed Archibald was one of the 35 women from Wellington Centre who flew Air Canada to Newfoundland on an exchange visit with W.I. members.
She recounted the highlights of her trip, saying she wouldn't have missed it for the world, remarking how the Newfoundland people went all out to entertain them. Some of the ladies took a week off work while they were there.
Mrs. Archibald was hosted by Mrs. Betty Mason at Port Union. She had entertained Mrs. Mason last year when the Nfld. ladies were visiting Wellington Centre.
Their plane landed at St. Johns and from there on they travelled by bus. The Trans-Canada highway cuts across the province, and there are no fences to keep stock in, it's open range. A cow would be standing on the road and the bus driver simply drove around her.
Mrs. Archibald and her hostess went out in a fishing boat for three and a half hours into the Atlantic. She admitted it was rather scary with nothing but water in sight. They sighted an iceberg but didn't go too close.
They toured a fish factory. Fish are cured with salt and dried in the sun on racks. Her business presented her with a cured fish to bring home.

On Sunday she went to church in Port Union, and a banquet was served at a Drivers unfamiliar with the area are finding the sign difficult to follow and end up in Acton instead of Rockwood or Guelph and have to back-track to the curve in the road on Highway 7. No sign has been placed at the turn-off instructing drivers to make the turn left on to the highway running towards Rockwood and Guelph.

Now: a new minimum wage in Ontario

Effective October 1st, 1974

Ontario's new minimum wage covers people employed in general industry, construction work, domestic service, ambulance service, funeral service, including students and learners.

If you or your employees fall into these categories, it's important for you to know what the law now requires.

People employed by agencies as domestics, and people working as funeral directors or embalmers must now be paid not less than $2.25 an hour. Learners in General Industry must be paid at least $2.15 an hour during their first month of employment and at least $2.25 per hour thereafter. People employed in construction work or as construction site guards are now entitled to at least $2.50 an hour. There is no learner rate for the construction industry. Ambulance drivers, helpers and first-aid attendants must now receive at least $108.00 per week or, if they work fewer than 48 hours a week, $2.25 an hour. Students under 18 who work 28 hours a week or less, or during school holidays, must receive at least $1.90 per hour.

When employees occupy a room or eat meals supplied by their employer, $9.00 per week for the room and $1.00 for each meal or $21.00 per week for meals or $30.00 a week for room and meals may be included when calculating the minimum wage.

As for overtime pay, until December 31, 1974, it will be 1 1/2 times the regular pay after 48 hours a week. From January 1, 1975 on, the time-and-one-half rate will apply after 44 hours a week. And from January 1, 1975 on, there will be three more holidays with pay—New Year's Day, Victoria Day, and Thanksgiving Day—added to the current statutory holidays: Good Friday, Dominion Day, Labour Day, and Christmas.

If you'd like to have that talk with George Brown, call him at 878-4185. And if it makes better sense to have that important first meeting in his office, instead of your kitchen, the coffee's on George.
