Board committee sees merit in Renaissance group suggestions

A subcommittee of the Halton Board of Education has recommended the board take action on four recommendations suggested by Halton Renaissance Committee.

A brief prepared by the Renaissance Committee was presented to the board Aug. 22 with more than 20 recommendations. The board committee studied the Renaissance report and published a committee report stating a recommended position on each recommendation.

The committee recommended forwarding eight recommendations to other levels of government and suggested that another 15 recommendations were already being considered or have been undertaken by the board.

Communications
The committee urged a comprehensive survey of all methods used to maintain good communications be undertaken with a view to ensuring they are adequate.

The committee encouraged the board to co-operate with the Renaissance Committee in its efforts to develop proposals for the Ministry of Labor and Ministry of Colleges and Universities which would strengthen opportunities for apprenticeship training in Ontario.

More effective means of communicating information to students and parents regarding course content and teaching materials should be investigated, the board committee said.

Other actions of the board committee report include:
- Rejection of the idea of one committee being formed

- Encouraged the Renaissance committee to continue study in the area of apprenticeship training.

Agreement on Cable TV

Acton Hydro Commission at the Thursday evening meeting heard a delegation from Georgetown Cable TV President Jamieson and agreed to execute an agreement for joint use of hydro poles. The agreement is to be "filed" as Georgetown with the exception that the annual fee will be $4 per pole used and payment will be made to the commission twice a year.

contractors for the installation and Dick Armstrong of General Electronics who will oversee the installation.

New name
Mr. Jamieson told commissioners a new name had been selected for the cable company and would be used in the agreement. He said they hoped to start cable installation on November 1, with a two month completion time. He said work on the Milton system would not start until next spring.

Mr. Jamieson enquired what the cost for tree trimming had been in the past and various estimates were given that seemed to indicate a total cost of about $4,500.00. Mr. Jamieson said he was happy and thought a good agreement had been reached.

A letter from Ontario Hydro was received approving the additional capital cost for the purchase of the truck.

The commission authorized the secretary to sell the last $25,000 worth of securities to meet current expenses.

A letter from Halton Hills requested the commission to reconsider their position on the benefits under the employee insurance program. Halton Hills requested the commission to consider the same benefit schedule as Halton Hills so that the administration costs of the plan could be held to a minimum. Commissioners agreed to comply.

Order
An order for four "Safe Worker" hat badges at 35 cents each was approved.

Accounts
$45,490.01 were approved for payment. In the absence of chairman Wil McEachern, Ted Tyler acted as chairman of the meeting at which all of their members were present.

Road closing

Halton Region's Public Works Committee agreed to a road closing in the town of Halton Hills during its meeting Wednesday.

The road allowance is between concession three and concession four. The closure is in conjunction with an agreement the town has with Indusmin Ltd. where a new road is being built to replace the section of road being closed.

Plan service
The Remembrance Day service will be held at Knox church on Sunday morning, Nov. 10.

Spilling the pins
