

Award increases

Salary adjustments for non-teaching personnel were awarded by Halton Board of Education Thursday night. Lump sum adjustments of $85 effective next month and two and a half per cent increases were authorized for Jan. 1, 1975. Attended counsellors, audio visual technicians, auxiliary staff, bus drivers, business managers, computer staff, health attendants, psychometricians, secretarial and clerical workers and the secretary to the board were included in those persons awarded increases.

Pet of the week

TOBY THE PERSIAN guinea pig just loves to get his long hair combed by his masters John (left) and Paul Looser. Toby is seven months old and his favorite food is cornflakes. When not scurrying around the room, he likes to eat greens, such as lettuce and celery. He is also fond of rabbit food.

Federation members asked to endorse brief

Halton Federation of Agriculture will be asked to endorse a brief dealing with incentives for agriculture at the group's annual meeting at Hillcrest Church Dec. 4. The brief has been developed by a committee which represents the Federation, Regional Planning Committee, Halton Soil and Crop Association, Ministry of Agriculture and Food and other interested persons. The brief recommends a number of incentives to keep land in agriculture and suggests freezing of prime agricultural land so that it can be used for no purpose other than agriculture. Want to be fair. The brief has been a source of controversy among farmers themselves and at the regional planning level. The committee has met with some area councils, worked closely with regional planners and has made presentations to the Niagara Escarpment Commission concerning land use matters. According to committee member Henry Stanley, the object is to find ways to retain agricultural land and to be fair to those who own and work the land. The brief deals with a number of alternate ways in which incentives can be provided. Regional Planning Committee said it will endorse the study, providing the Federation votes in favor of it. Zoning, tax deferrals and a number of other areas are probed in the report. The committee has met for more than a year in developing the study. Hunters blamed Milton detachment of the O.P.P. investigated four complaints of hunters during the past week. They also investigated five thefts, two violations under the Liquor Control Act, four mischief complaints, two break and enters and 70 other occurrences of a general nature. There were 19 traffic collisions including 10 people injured and nine property damage collisions.
