

Ask ceiling review

During a meeting of Halton Board of Education Thursday the board:

—Was reminded of a Values Education Conference Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

Learned past chairman Bill Priestner would present a motion at the next meeting urging the minister of education to review the ceilings on spending for boards of education. He noted the recent settlement of the province made with the Civil Servants Association of Ontario would affect negotiations the board would undertake with teachers and other organized groups.

Signed a joint use of facilities agreement for use of school library facilities at Limehouse School.

Start budget. Was advised a schedule of budget meetings would get underway Jan. 30. The budget is anticipated to be completed and approved by April 3.

Was advised by Superintendent of Finance and Operations, Bruce Lindley, the board will have to borrow money to finance the operation as a result of a change in the dates the municipalities will pay their levies. Until now the municipalities have been responsible for any borrowing on an interim nature.

Grant bid due soon

All groups and organizations requesting grants from Halton Regional Council should make application by Feb. 20.

Some grants have been already requested. During the Community Services meeting last week the committee referred requests from Burlington Youth Residents and North Halton Assoc. for the Monthly Retarded to the Finance and Administration Committee. Community Services committee recommended the grant requests for the two organizations be met. Finance and Administration Committee reviews all of the grant requests and makes recommendations to council.

Name Committees

Halton Regional Council will decide which councillors will serve on which committees and how many committees when council meets today (Wednesday). A preliminary draft of the committee structure composed by Chairman Allan Mason has been presented but that structure is expected to be altered.

Many members of Halton Hills and Milton Councils feel they want to serve on two rather than one committee. This is important for the two northern municipalities in order to keep the north-south representation at the committee level from being put away out of whack.

Proclaim day here

Mayor Tom Hill with the assent of council, declared January 21 World Religion Day.

The request came from the Bahais of Georgetown, who stated world religion is the basis of world unity.

In keeping with a policy established by council, the town no longer pays for any advertising declaring days or weeks. They simply pass the proclamation.

American contract

Many workers at American Motors, Brampton, where many Halton Hills residents are employed, won't have to worry about being out of work since the federal government announced this week they have been awarded a $961,704 contract.

The post office has ordered 222 right-hand drive half-ton step vans for mail delivery.
