

SCOTT POST MEMORIAL Trophy for the most improved goalie in the Legion minor hockey novice house league went this year to young Mike Hendsbee of the runner-up Brampton team. Jerry Post presented the trophy at Saturday's Day of Champions, which wound up the local house league hockey season.

Novices new group champs

Acton novices scored a goal in each period to shut out Grand Valley 3-0 in a sudden death game for their group championship here last Tuesday night. Grand Valley won the title last season in the first year the novice league operated.

Mike Hudson scored for Acton in the opening period, David McKnight lit the lamp in the second and Rick Dodds connected in the third. Lorenzo Civerio and Kevin McRae picked up assists. Scott Hibbard played shutout goal for the locals.

At the Plattsville Little Brave tournament on Thursday the novices met a familiar foe, Elmira, in the first round and defeated the Sugar Kings 5-0. Bill Morrison and Steve Raine rang the bell twice each for Acton. Bruce Canary scored once. David McKnight and Kevin McRae contributed two assists each while Ted Lindsay and Ron Vanitem each helped out on a goal. Scott Hibbard once again earned the shutout.

In the second round the Acton club got on the score-sheet first against Byron, when Mike Hudson cashed in a pass from Rae Hands. Byron bounced back with three unanswered goals to win 3-1. Two of the Byron goals came just 20 seconds apart.

Ex-Sabre juniors Randy Weldon and Ted Harner coached the team to the group championship. Herb Dodds handled the time-consuming job of manager.

Honor house league standouts

Mike Hendsbee, goalie for the runner-up Brampton team won the Scott Post Memorial Trophy for the most improved goalie in the Legion novice house league this season. Jerry Post made the presentation at Saturday's Day of Champions.

Tricounty reputation in jeopardy

Tricounty minor hockey officials may have to eat their words on the relative strength of their league and the Waterloo-Wellington loop, if the OMHA Juvenile "A" finals continue the way they've started.

Orangeville juveniles, representatives of the Waterloo-Wellington league, which also includes Acton, Fergus, New Hamburg, Elmira, Erin and Elora have taken a 2-0 lead in their best of seven OMHA final series against Milton CTCs, who placed second behind Georgetown Rotarians in the Tricounty league. Orangeville won 8-7 in overtime on home ice Saturday night and 11-2 in Milton Sunday afternoon.

The series continues with games in Orangeville tonight (Wednesday) and back in Milton Sunday afternoon.

Peewees pack up gear

Acton Y's Mens' peewees wound up their competitive season, taking part in the Wasaga Beach tournament on Easter weekend.

Peewees blew a 2-0 lead and lost 4-2 to Midland in the first round. Paul Campbell and Dave Brown scored for Acton, with Campbell, Ronnie Jackson and Todd McIntyre earning assists.

In consolation play, the peewees and Collingwood minor peewees were tied 1-1 at the end of regulation time. Collingwood won the game 2-0, when they connected on two penalty shots to Acton's one in overtime. Dave Brown scored in regulation time for the Y's Men, while Todd McIntyre connected on the overtime penalty shot.

The team will hold its annual father and son game at the community centre tonight (Wednesday) at 6. Helping coach Barry Inscoc guide the peewees through a season of 41 games this year were assistant coach Robin Inscoc and manager Frank Altsoop.

—Officials report an increase in rabies cases. Beware of wild animals at this time of year.
