

Synchro swimming illustrated at new pools

As if to say "Mr. Music please," as in Romper Room, ten young women from Acton and Georgetown keep time to music and stay in perfect unison, as they swim from one end of the pool to another.

A combination of ballet and gymnastics to music, synchronized swimming is offered at the Acton swimming pool for an hour and a half, every Wednesday evening, and will be offered at the new Georgetown pool upon its completion.

Instructing the Acton course is Judi Patterson, who teaches the girls various movements under the water as well as timing and coordination.

Sounds of Barbra Streisand and instrumental music fills the area as the record player blares out the notes.

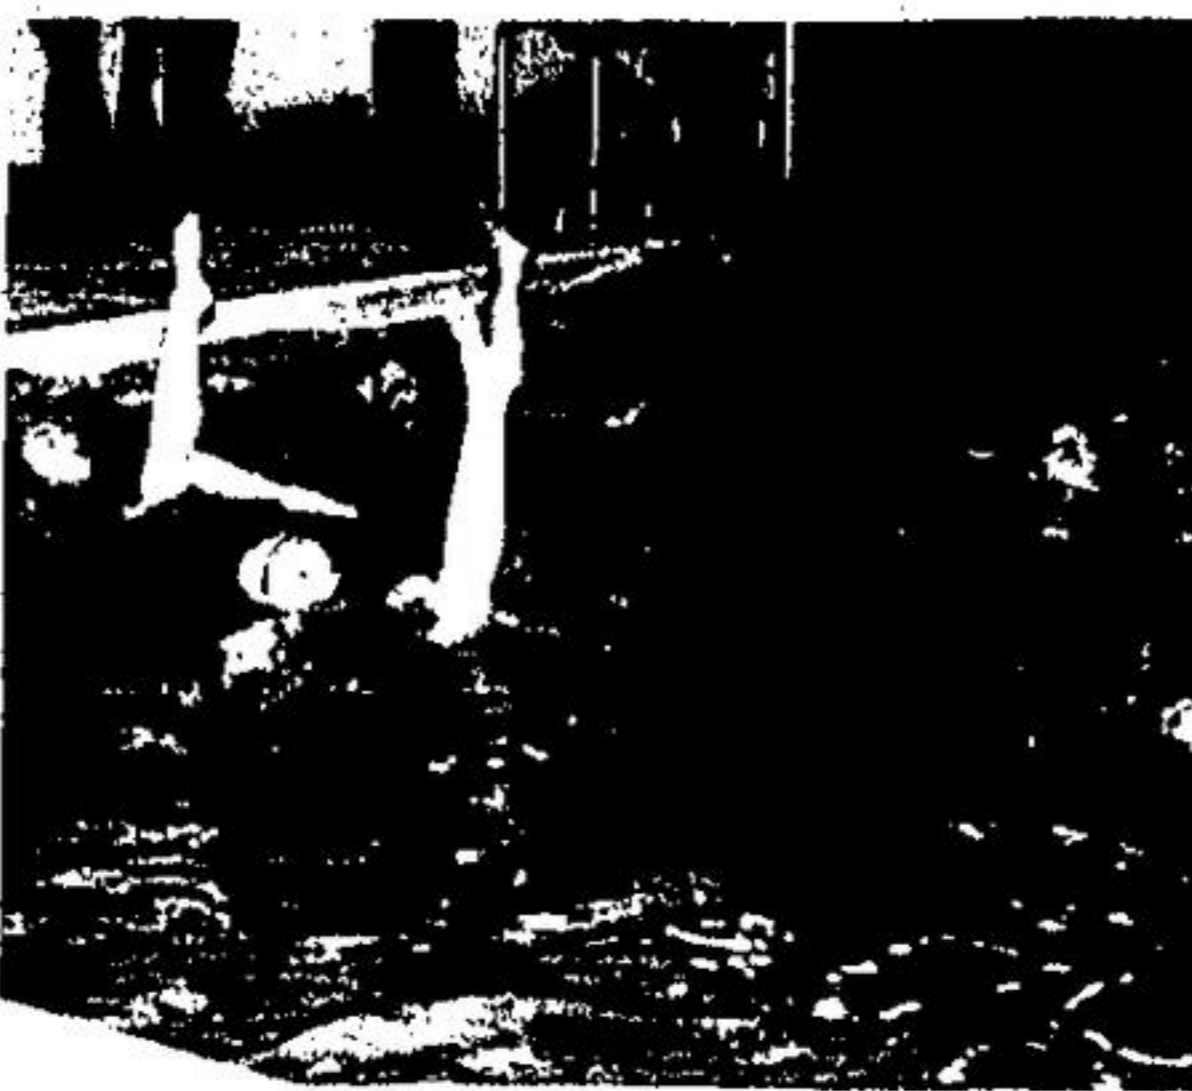

Last week, the girls tried out for their different stars, which, in laymen's terms, is class or level.

Achieving star one are Anne Pickering, Liz Cooper, Leslie Graham, Cathy Ashley, Susan Ancker, Anne Smith, Lene Larsen, and Kelly Murumets, of Georgetown. Chris Hall, also of Georgetown, and Anne Pickering are at star two and star three holders are Lynn Virag, of Georgetown, and Chris Hall.

A demonstration by these girls was given on April 2 with a general routine held and smaller shows by small groups.

Chris Hall, Georgetown pool supervisor is very hopeful synchronized swimming can be taught in Georgetown. She hopes for a good turnout.

JUDI Patterson shows her synchronized swimmers one of the strokes to use for their routines.

Legion notes

by Gary Dawkins

I must apologize for missing the last two issues. Actually, I had a choice of remaining in Acton and writing this article or taking a trip south to the Bahamas and for some reason I decided on the trip.

Mr. Arbie provided the music for the dance Saturday evening. Although the numbers in attendance were not large, everyone had a good time. Next week will see the return of Ross Hillier and his group.

Al and Betty Green organized the mixed euchre Saturday in the Games Room. M. Winters, J. Taylor, and E. Cutting were the winners for the ladies. Lucky winners for the men were A. Green, H. Wedge, and J. Earle.

Draws

Winners for the Draw of the Month were J. T. Cook of Alton winning $263, and G. Renaud winning $175. Ray Payne picked up $21, for selling the winning ticket.

There were no winners last week in the Daily Membership Draw. Names drawn during the week were H. Lambert, M. Patenudé, R. Hamer, J. McHugh, E. Johnson and V. Coe.

are: 230 Club 196, Hi Tones 192, Campbell Const. 178, Firemen A 162, Boat Club 159, Lo Tones 157, Legion A 156, Disston Saw 144, Ink Spots 139, Legion C 137, Can Dos 131.

G. McCutcheon and R. Heller are still leading the Ping Pong League. Few games have been played lately and Andy Nolan would urge all members to set up games in advance. It just does not work if you leave it to chance.

The Guelph Legion Boxing Club will be presenting a display in the Games Room on Saturday, April 12 commencing at 3 p.m. The display will involve five or six two-round bouts and should be quite interesting for any of our members who can be out on Saturday.

There are two reminders to pass on to our membership. First, anyone interested in purchasing the tulips commemorating the Golden Anniversary must have their money and orders in to Ed Footitt or B. Angell by April 12. Secondly, the next general meeting will be held on Monday, April 14.

Plan now for summer

"Farmers who employ students during the summer should make their needs known as soon as possible," says J. W. Huxley, agricultural Manpower Officer with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

"At the present time there are more students available than there are jobs; however, I am certain there are many farmers across the province looking for summer help," says Mr. Huxley.

Farmers interested in employing these students should contact Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Agricultural Manpower Services Branch, Parliament Buildings Toronto, or telephone: (416) 965-6149.

Obituary

Bill Oost

Acton friends were shocked to learn of the sudden death of William Oost at his home in Haslett, Michigan, on April 2. Bill was a former Acton resident and married to the former June Lawrence of Rockwood.

He was born in the Netherlands July 23, 1939. He was a resident of Acton during his high school years, living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Oost, and sister on Church St.

After marriage, he and his wife moved to Michigan where he completed his schooling at Calvin College. He was employed with United Parcel Service in Lansing.

He was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church of East Lansing.

Surviving are his wife June, two daughters Kari and Julie and son Dean; parents Mr. and Mrs. Thys Oost, Peel St., Acton, sister Mrs. Harry (Trudy) Hofstede of Shelburne, Ont.

Private graveside service was held at East Lawn Memory Gardens, Okemos, Michigan. A memorial service for family and friends was held Saturday afternoon at the First Christian Reformed church, East Lansing.

Music Stop

A Guelph man has been charged with mischief following the breaking of the window at the Music Stop on Mill St. April 2 about 9:20 p.m. There was a large hole in the pane which was boarded up.
