

Coils of unprocessed steel cake with rust outside the P. L. Robertson Manufacturing plant in Milton.

The wheels of industry

(Photos by Dave Pink)

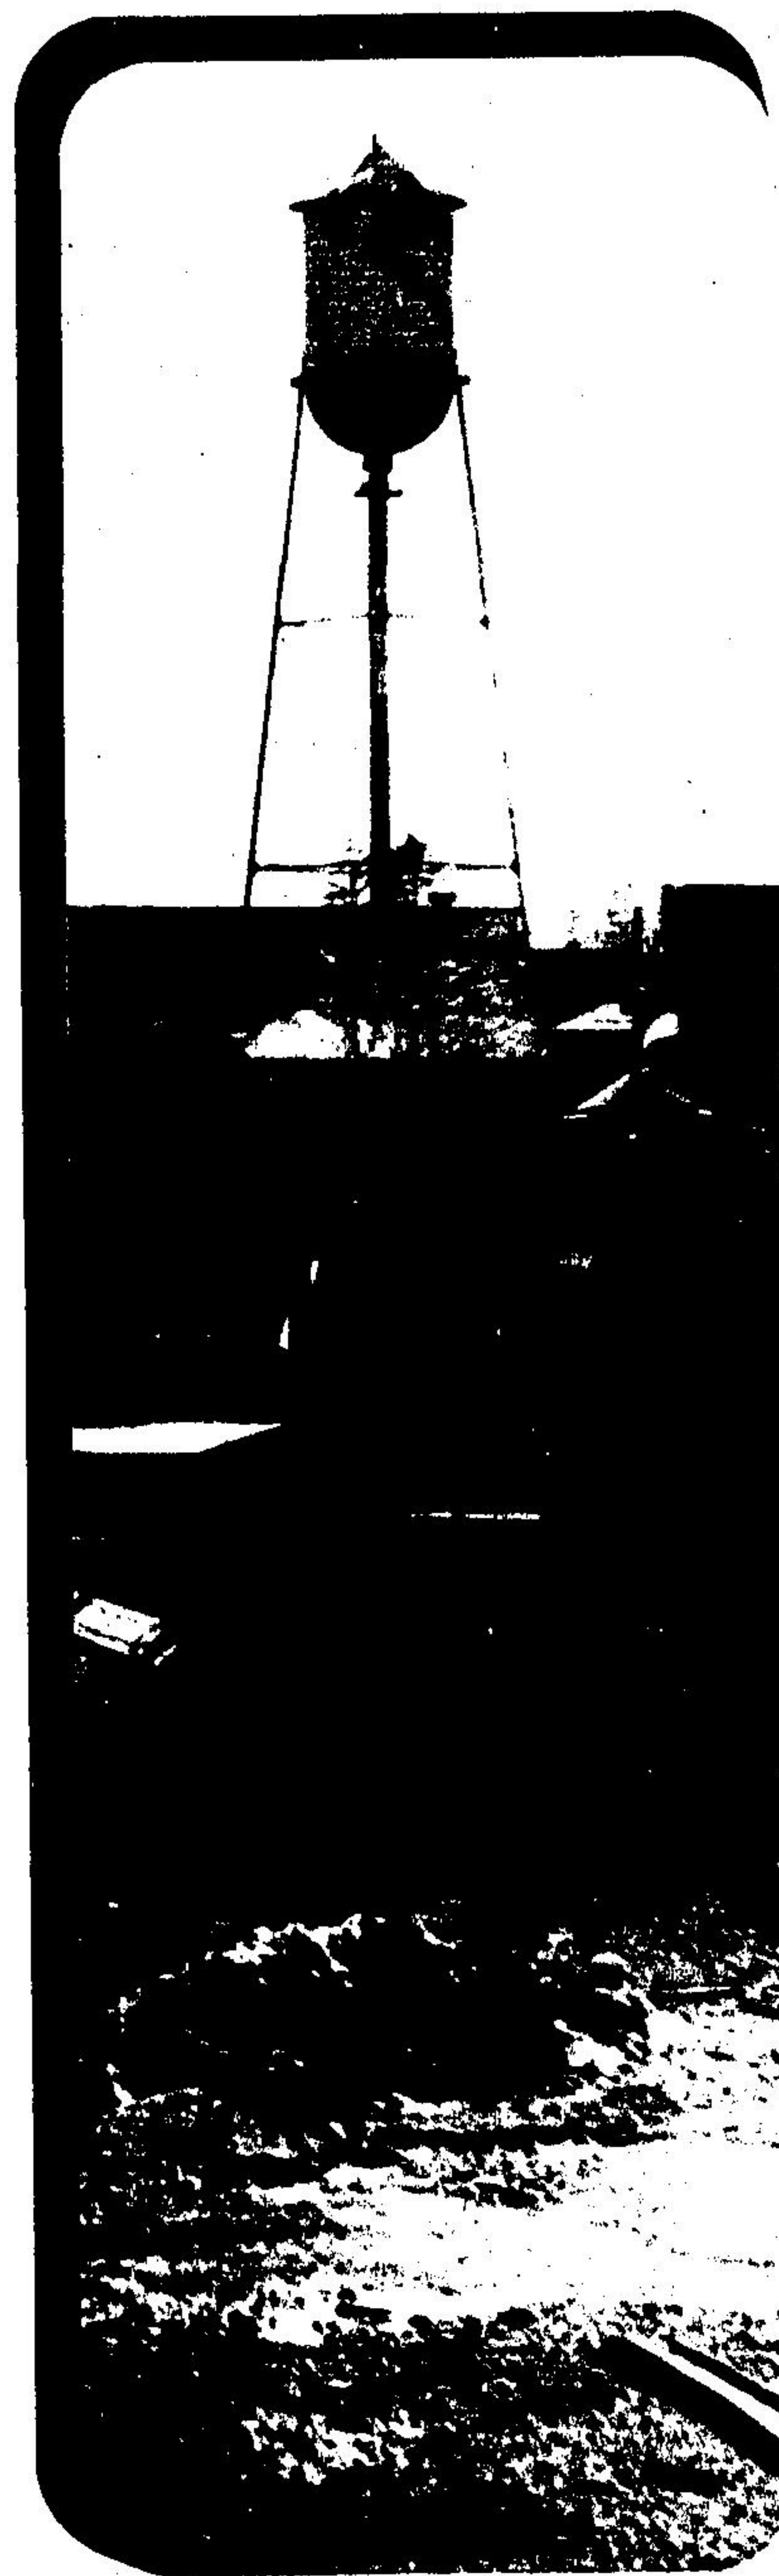

The Robin Hood Multifoods mill stands against the evening sky in Milton.

The walls of the Smith and Stone Manufacturing plant in Georgetown show signs of age.

Steam and smoke rises above the factory at the Domtar paper mill in Georgetown.

The lonely water tower guards the aging tanning sheds at the Canada Packers tannery in Acton.

Railway tracks wind by heaps of limestone at the Indusmin quarry.