Terrible Storm and Fatal Accident.

At Bridford, on the 21th ult., a terrible gale occurred, blowing down the Town Hall, a large brick building. The grammar school was held in the basement, and sev eral of the scholars were injured and one killed. Those injured were :- Charles Wilson, cut and bruised about the head; Herbert Cockerline, head tadly crushed; A. J. Kilpatrick, but in the back. Three three will probably recover; the fourth, Alexander Wood, was found entirely buried in a mass of bricks and broken timbers, and when taken out life was quite extine". It is miraculous that any of the wholers everyed instant destruction. In addition to the above several other buildings were unreafed, or partially blown down, chitages a demolished, and windows

The "lead" in lead pencils is not lend at all, though it, is called "black land." The weight, if nothing else tells you that. It is a mineral called graphite, (from the tireck word to write) and is more nearly related to coulthur to lead. You lave fearned that both coal and the dismond are forms of the element, carbon. Graphite is still another shape in which curbin is found; it usually contains a very little iron. Plumbage is another name for it. It cannot be melted, but at a very high heat it will burn. The fine kinds are very scarce.

THE Colorado beetle is worse than over in the neighbourhood of Galt. A Branchton gentleman says he thinks the bugs are ten inica as numerous as had year. To save the petate crops diligent care will be required. Paris Green in being disposed of in large quantities by our morehants, the best selling at fifty conts per pound, Farmers and others troubled with brotles, would be wise to purchase Paris Green at once and apply it. The sooner the bugs are destroyed the better for next year's outlook, as well as for the present erop.

- The heroes of a twalve days' drill at Niagara returned on Saturday afternoon hat, well covered with dest. They had an unusually quiet time in camp, nothing of any interest happening, with the exception of a valuable horse being shob by some of the soldiers while drilling.
