

Rides

Boating in the heat

Singing in the park

... or just fooling around with the hose

The fun of a slide

Carnival games

Donut-eating contests

Time spent with dad

An old-fashioned race to the finish

In the good old summertime . . .

Summertime . . . and the livin' is easy. It's a time for enjoying the great outdoors, whether alone by a bubbling stream or together at a picnic.

It's a time to let the cool, clear water splash around you or to sit quietly holding hands under a big shade tree.

The pleasures of summer are many. Relax . . . and enjoy!

— Joyce Beaton

A family picnic

Mother and baby enjoying the sun